Chapter 196

INCIDENT AT HOSKINS CREEK

Incident At Hoskins Creek

One of my daughters sells electronic equipment. Yesterday, a man she had never seen before in her life walked up to her and asked "Aren't you Dick Hoskins daughter? Your father and I went to Fishburne Military School together more than 40 years ago."

Now, isn't that something?

One more story. About 20 or 30 years ago I was sitting on a stool in the old drugstore near Hoskins Creek in Tappahannock when an old, old man, all stooped over, white beard, walker and all, called out to me from the booth where he was sitting:

"No Sir, I'm Dick Kelly, John Hundley's boy.

He continued as if I hadn't said anything; "You're Willard Dunbar Hoskins from Hoskins Hill at Dunnsville?" (Dunnsville is about 5 miles away).

I said: "No sir, Willard was my grandfather. He died in 1914 long before I was born." He turned away confused and mumbled, "I thought you were Willard Dunbar."

The establishment tells us every day that we are unique and special and can do anything we want. That's not what I see. From what I've seen in other peoples children and grandchildren as well as my own, it appears that each of us is a very near copy of a certain ancestor. It's in the blood.

Our people expect a certain minimum standard of conduct from those they consider superior types. They don't have to be a Robert E. Lee. Robert E. Lee would be superior if he had never been a general and seen an army. He went by The Rules. The Rules magnify strengths and suppress weaknesses. A mere man becomes part superman. He has superhuman strengths.

In the book By Way Of Deception, the story of the Mossad,¹ the author noted that "Israeli agents can do nothing with those who are on pedestals." Those the Mossad can recruit either drink, fornicate, have money problems,² are unhappy with politics, or are unhappy with their families. In effect, anyone who has any of these problems is a potential recruit for the opposition and is a security risk.

1 Mossad - Israeli intelligence and assassination organization.

2 I've met many men, but I never met a man who had enough money. Everyone has money problems. But, if you are willing to compromise your ideals because of money problems - the problem is YOU.

Any of these problems seems monumental to the one with it. Chances are that the weakness causing the problem will remain for the persons entire life. Still, the solution is in the training manual.

These are exciting times. Big things are happening. An army is being recruited - an army the likes of which has not been seen since the days of the crusades. Recruitment bonuses are being promised to those who qualify and join:

(1) "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... according to ... their fathers they shall inherit." Num 26:53-55, (2) "And the Lord thy God will make thee plenteous in every work of thine hand, in the fruit of thy body, ... of thy cattle ... and ... of thy land, for good, for the Lord will again rejoice over thee for good, as he rejoiced over thy fathers: If thou shalt ... keep his commandments and his statutes ... For this commandment ... is not hidden from thee ... It is ... in thy heart, that thou mayest do it." Deut. 30:9

Also, penalties are levied against those refusing to obey instructions.

"But if ye will not ... do all these commandments; ... I also will do this unto you; ... (1) ye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it ... (2) they that hate you shall reign over you; (3) and ye shall flee when none pursueth you. ... (4) I will break the pride of your power ... (5) your land shall not yield her increase ... (6) I will send wild beasts (strangers) among you which shall rob you of your children ... (7) and make you few in number ... (8) I will bring a sword upon you ... (9) I will send the pestilence among you; ... (10) I will ... cast your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols ... (11) And I will make your cities waste ... (13) And I will bring the land into desolation. Lev 26:14-35

In a nutshell this is the choice: Join and live or don't and be destroyed.

To qualify for enlistment is no snap. You've got to be a little more than warm and breathing. It is even more strict than the qualifications for enlistment in the crusader armies of our ancestors. The minimum consideration is that a volunteer be unable to be recruited by an enemy. It's no foreign legion open to everyone. A recruit cannot join to escape his other problems. He must first achieve what strangers call a pedestal lifestyle. What good is a recruit that can be turned into a traitor? His personal life must be under control. It's all spelled out in the training manual.

Achieving what others call "pedestals" means that recruits are not likely to be bought, bribed, or intimidated. With this basic requirement he can then join his basic unit. In time the units will be called together into an army. This very special army is the one that will march into the land that has been promised.

The basic unit is six.

Somewhere back in time there was a mailed crusader - who looked just like you. There was a bowman in the forest of Sherwood - who looked just like you. There was a Viking who stepped down into the cold water to wade ashore - who looked just like you. You are the same flesh, the same blood. What our grandfathers did - we can do and do better! We've studied to avoid their failures and learned from their successes, and we have brains enough to follow instructions.

The promises contained in the instructions guarantee that one day soon we will have that untaxed cottage, the land that goes with it that is never to be sold,³ a family cemetery for a 100 generations of grandfathers, fathers, ourselves, and our children, and a garden to keep us from want in hard times. We can go to town and work or sit under the shade of the tree and read. It's all promised, and its as good as ours - right now.

We just have to sign on the dotted line.

The pay is good and the bonus super. And, frankly, look at the choice!

"I have set before you life and death ... choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live." Deut 30:19

Hammer Passes - A King Is Dead

"A king is dead - long live the King!" Once again these words ring forth. Unlike the last king who died violently at the hands of an unknown assassin in Germany last year - this one died peacefully.

Armond Hammer 92, son of a founder of the American Communist Party, and himself a long time communist sympathizer, had a near monopoly of U.S./Soviet trade as a result of his influence over Soviet leaders. Trade with the Soviet Union was virtually his private monopoly making him incredibly rich. The trade included everything from pencils to copious oil wells in the Soviet Union to extensive coal fields in China. His private plane ignored red tape and took him straight to Moscow where he was met at the airport by a cavalcade of top communist leaders who bowed and scraped as they jostled each other to pay their respects and seek his advice.

In one instance communist incompetence put the USSR on the road to starvation and a peoples revolt. Hammer arrived in the nick of time with gigantic deliveries of grain which blunted the peoples anger and prevented the overthrow of the communist state and saved his profitable monopoly. It has been said that world communism owes as much to Hammer as to anyone in the world.

Hammer was many years the target of barbs hurled by the American right wing. However, nothing the man did offended Washington. America's establishment cast a tolerant eye on one of their own who was doing his thing and doing it well.

His death has caused the establishment to again pull out the stops with the usual extravagances. Hammer's death is front page USA - prime time TV. The establishment salutes the passing of one of their own. The nation watches in awe. A king is dead.

MEET THE FAMILY: "Dear Dick: I was a captain in the navy for many years. Crew members would ask permission to marry. This was fine in Germany, Australia, or Britain, they are our people.

"I prevented my crew from marrying orientals by talking to them. I just told them that before they got married that I would give him leave to go meet his future in-laws. I told him that his bride-to-be would look just like his bride's mother when she reached the same age. Oriental women are generally ugly as sin as they get older. I never had a crew member make the trip, take a look at his future mother in law, and then come back and marry an oriental bride. Not one. Other captains are doing the same." T. A. - Arkansas

DATING: "Dear Dick: Your article on dating left out one thing - kids should follow parents selection of mates. Parents know what to look for and many tragic matches could be avoided if their advice had been sought and taken." A. W. - South Carolina

ED: I brought my dates home because there were records, piano, photo albums, books, guns, singing, other kids - entertainment. My folks met them all. I really didn't understand that dating led to marriage. I had no intention of marrying at that time. I also wanted to avoid parental criticism of certain of my friends, so I concealed facts about them. When I was 22 I actually asked my folks to pick out a wife for me. The only girls my age they knew were the girls I had brought home. I hadn't been upfront enough for them to really judge.

It is the parents job to tell their kids that life is no popularity contest, the gameplan is - marriage for keeps! There is no such thing as a careless "just for fun" date. Every act in this world is set in concrete - from a "good morning, Sir", to a blow. Singles dating is to be avoided, but groups doing things together under proper supervision is fine. Older teens should be trained to bring these groups home on some excuse or other and be upfront with their parants in discussing each individual afterwards. Kids and parents must put their cards on the table and talk. Parents must be wise enough to listen well and careful in criticising. I was 27 before I found a wife on my own. I was lucky.

WHITE INDIANS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: In the Search For Lost America by Salvador Michael Trento on p. 93, Chief Brant told a gentleman in 1838 that many generations prior to that date there were White men and women living in North America building mounds and mining. Indian tribes plotted to massacre them. The Whites were all killed and their structures burned. That is why the American mounds have no debris showing what happened. Chief Brant was a high Sachem and was very privy to the secrets of the tribes." H. R. - New York

HAITI TODAY: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Re your Vigilante chapter on Haiti. In Haiti today all forest and vegetation are cut away. There is no wild life and few birds. The land appears to be poor and very dry. Poverty is the norm. Voodoo priests are without Hollywood feathers and bones in the noses. They look like anyone else. In their homes is a altar on which is a skull and often a picture of the pope. Crime is severely punished with prisoners being beaten at each meal time, consequently, there is little crime and few jails. Repeaters are killed. Whites are hated in places and the wise few who visit are careful where they go." A. J. - Illinois

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: I am a veteran of three wars. A short while ago I stood in a group and pledged allegiance to the flag. My words mocked me. For a long time I have been abused by the IRS, the Washington politicians, their minions, and their favored minorities. My kids have been beaten in school, my wife has been mugged, and there is nothing I can do about it. I am learning. My pledge would better have been:

"I pledge allegiance to almighty God, and to the Word which is his name. One nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

"A man cannot serve two masters." H. R. - Virginia

CONSTITUTION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: FDR's nationalization of the militias and sending them overseas for combat violates Article I Section 8 of the Constitution: 'The Congress shall have power: (15) To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasions.' Not to fight foreign wars." H. L. - Kansas

KUWAIT: "Dear Richard: Is this potential conflict in the gulf region being orchestrated to enable America to borrow cash yet again into circulation, or has Saddam Hussein stepped out of line. Would appreciate input." H. B. - New Zealand

ED: Kuwait itself is a strategic terminal of the trans-Turkey railroad and is a valuable seaport, besides a source of oil. It became a British Protectorate in the middle of the last century to deny local Middle East powers use of its strategic location. Arabs resent it. On at least two other occasions Britain has had to come to Kuwait's defense against Arab fundamentalist invaders - which is evidently part of an agreement. Bagdad, on the other hand, considers this territory in her sphere of influence and this claim goes back to the Persian Empire. She also considers British dominated Kuwait and Saudi-Arabia to be British pawns. Islamic followers pay little heed to national boundaries. That is a Western concept. To them there is Islam - and nothing else. Islam will be the long-term winner in the present confrontation game. The Israeli country to them is a minor enemy. Islam looks on the entire West as a single devil. Islam's energies will be focused on the task of its destruction from now on. The U.S.'s Arab allies will last as long as the pay holds out - no longer. The "wild card" is the Arab leaders. Most are unbelievably corrupt. But, one day a Saladin will arrive on the scene.

UNFILTERED NEWS

GRAVES DESECRATED: Once again, two Israelis are being held for desecrating 250 Jewish graves near Haifa. Slogans painted this time read "Exterminate the Jews." and "The Palestinian state will rise." (Story in Los Angeles Times, May 15, 1990)

ED: The 6 million Holocaust blitz and countless ongoing graveyard desecrations have in the past been blamed on Israeli desire to paper over their complicity in starting WW II and to keep the heat turned up on the German multi-billion dollar reparations.

A new reason may have been surfaced in the almost banned book By Way Of Deception, by an ex-Israeli Mossad agent. In the book a dangerous policy is disclosed where Jewish populations the world over are being encouraged to arm themselves to defend their temples and their people against another "holocaust." A slight shift in media propaganda could turn such armed radicalized groups against their hosts. It's has been done before. This would result in a win-win situation for world Zionism: ie. (1) A successful Russian type takeover of the host nation, or (2) if it fails, an expulsion, which would accomplish a major Zionist objective of in-gathering world Jewry to Palistine.

With the holocaust myth at last exposed, the Jewish world populations will learn that they have long been manipulated for the benefit of political Zionism. The Zionists will loose credibility, and with loss of creditility comes loss of control of their own people. That's why the furious reaction by Zionists at each new revelation of the holocaust fraud.

Some American Jews are beginning to realize the consequences of rash plans of this sort and are speaking out against them. Railers against holocaust revisionists may be trying to save more than merely make people believe the unbelievable.

AUSCHWITZ-BIRKENAU: "Plaques were taken down in line with recent historical studies that indicate there were 1.1 million victims ... Previously the plaques ... spoke of 4 million victims." The News & Daily Advance 7/18/90.

ED: This is about the 15th adjustment in the atrocity story. Directly after WW II it was claimed that 38 million died in extermination camps. This figure was reduced in stages to 32 million, 28 million, 24 million, 22 million, 18 million, 16 million, 12 million, 8 million, 6 million, and now newly released Soviet files show only 72,000 deaths at Auschwitz, and these were caused mostly by disease and malnutrition resulting from disrupted food supply caused by air attacks. It is also noted that Hollywood propaganda still spouts the 6 million figure in their atrocity program which includes the now admitted non-existent Auschwitz 3 million. The exterminationists do have their job cut out for them. When they get around to it they must adjust the Holocaust Hoax to make everyone believe in the Auschwitz 1.1 million and at the same time attack the latest 72,000 figure from the Soviet archives. It seems to be a never ending problem. Poor people. Problems, problems. The multi-billion survivor compensation may be harder to justify in the days ahead.

South Africa

AWB - S. AFRICA: "If the African National Congress continued its armed struggle, the (white) AWB would meet it head- on with an armed struggle of its own. AWB leader, Mr. Eugene Terre'Blanche said.

"Speaking to the press about the formation of armed 'Boer commandos." Mr. Terre'Blanche said these commando units would be used against anyone 'who tried with violence to remove the freedom of the volk.'...

"Mr. Terre'Blanche said every AWB structure in every town in S. Africa had organized itself into commando units in accordance with his order of three weeks ago. ... 'We will not allow our people to be murdered. ... We are not prepared to live under an ANC government' ... Mr. Terre'Blanch said, 'all hell would break loose' if the ANC ran the country.'

"One fugitive Mr. Piet Rudolph, for whom police are still searching in connection with the theft of weapons ... Terre'Blanche said he accepted that the Right-wing would protect Mr. Rudolph."

"Fifty new AWB commandos will be established in coming weeks by the 300 officers who attended a training course on AWB- leadership on Mr. Eugene Terre'Blanche's farm outside Ventersdorp ...

"Replying to a warning by the Law and Order Ministry that such commandos would be 'sniffed out' Mr. Terre'Blanche said 'We have no need to operate under cover. If there are not enough policemen and soldiers to protect us, we will protect ourselves. ... There is no power on earth which can forbid us to defend ourselves. ... We refuse to be put under an ANC government. That night there will be war in South Africa." S. A. Observer, June 1990.

ARMS: "Former Pretoria city councillor and conservative activist, Mr. Piet Rudolf, on April 22 admitted he was involved in the theft of arms from S. African Air Force headquarters in Pretoria. 'This is the beginning of the counter revolution.' he said in a telephone call to the Pretoria News. I was forced to take things from the government, which I am hostile to. The weapons will not be used against the Defense Force or the police but against the ANC. We are now going for the ANC's throat.' ... weapons stolen included about 20 pump-action shotguns, about 30 Z88 semi- automatic 9mm parabellum pistols, about 20 R5 assault rifles, a light machine-gun, several day/night sights for attachment to the R5s, and several thousand rounds of ammunition. Police are still searching for Mr. Rudolf." S. A. Observer, June 1990.

STATEMENT: Joseph Paul Franklin freely admitted in an interview with KUTV that he shot down interracial couples ten years ago. At his trial Franklin stoutly maintained that he did it in obedience with the Biblical stand on racial intermarriage related in The Bible, Book of Numbers, Ch #25.

Franklin, too, no less sacrificed himself, his future, his family, for the security of his people and his faith and is believed by many practicing Christians to be no less deserving of compassion by being pardoned by President Bush as were the three Israelis pardened by President Herzog..

In gathering material for the book, Vigilantes Of Christendom, the author spoke to Franklin by phone. Franklin was well versed in the scriptures and appeared philosophical. He said he had two regrets. First, that he would like to see his daughter whom he has not seen since she was a baby, and second, he would like to receive a certain well known Bible course.

It has recently been revealed that that Marion Prison, where Franklin is incarcerated, the replacement Federal prison for Alcatraz, has a contaminated water supply. This water is believed to severely affect prisoners over time causing mental lapses and physical deterioration. The last report on conditions there said that no corrections in the water supply has been made and guards bring their own. Many believe that Franklin has suffered enough. His address is: Joseph Paul Franklin, 01517-018, P.O. Box, Marion, IL 62959.

Chapter 197

INSTIGATING ISLAMIC HOLY WAR

Iraq Defeated

By the time the reader receives these lines Iraq may have bitten the dust, which would prove once again that a big strong man can beat the stuffings out of a scrawny little weak man. But, of course, quick victory in war is bad for business so it is more likely that the war will go on and on and on and - .

When thinking people heard that America was again invading another country, many had a sinking feeling. They felt that though America may easily whip Iraq, they were witnessing something tragic, that somehow this thing will not come out well - not well at all.

Historically, the warriors of Islam are, in victory, notorious for their acts of rape, robbery, and brutality. Still, the following information from our own U.S. sources can be the thing that over the long pull will make the difference.

Rules For U.S. Military In Saudi Arabia

(Excerpted from The American Christian, December 1990, P.O. Box 8430, Medford, Oregon 97504, Ben Williams, Editor.)

The following information directive was issued to American troops stationed in Saudi Arabia - Operation Desert Shield. Its purpose - to prevent American soldiers from getting into trouble with their Saudi hosts.

"1. ISLAM: The Islamic religion is the single most important factor in Saudi Arabian life and culture. Islam is based on the word of god as revealed to the prophet Mohammed. Islam's revered prophets also include Abraham and Jesus. Islam's holy book The Quran, is the basis of all religious thought and practice. No public worship of any other religion is openly permitted. ...

"2. ALCOHOL AND DRUGS: The possession or consumption of alcohol or non-prescribed drugs is illegal ... The penalties are quite severe.

"3. INDECENT MATERIAL: Materials ... such as the Sports Illustrated "Swimsuit edition", lingerie catalogs and some women's fashion magazines are considered pornographic in Saudi Arabia. ... Penthouse or Playboy, and videotapes of sexual content and nudity are absolutely forbidden ... Turn them in to your senior non-commissioned officer for destruction immediately.

"4. SAUDI WOMEN: Islam teaches that women hold a position of special honor and dignity in society and should be closely protected. ... Saudi women dress very conservatively, and dating is not allowed. Don't stare or attempt to strike up a conversation with Saudi women. Any dishonor is cause for severe punishment. ...

"6. CIVILIAN DRESS: American men and women must dress conservatively, particularly in public. Men should wear trousers, and shirts which are not open below the collar bone or sleeveless, I.E., tank tops. For women, skirts should be well below the knee, no pants or pantsuits. Generally, clothing should be loose fitting and concealing rather than revealing - no shorts, no exposed shoulders, no plunging necklines. Likewise, T-shirts glamorizing alcohol or other sensitive subjects may not be worn. Religious jewelry (Christian crosses) should be kept hidden beneath your clothing. Men should not wear earrings.

"7. MALE-FEMALE RELATIONSHIPS: Any public association between males and females is considered inappropriate. Touching, holding hands and kissing a member of the opposite sex in public is considered to be bad taste and could be viewed as obscene. Anything more intimate in public is illegal and is dealt with severely.

"8. PRAYER TIME: Muslims pray five times each day. Respect their religious convictions and give them privacy All business and commercial establishments are required to close during prayer calls. Restaurants suspend serving meals. Leave politely at these times, if asked.

"9. MUTTAWWA: The muttawwa (Mah-tah-wa) are "religious police." They enforce Muslim rules including the dress code, prayer time, etc. Some zealous muttawwa will confront Americans. If confronted by a muttawwa, attempt to quietly slip away. If they try to take you into custody, insist on the presence of a uniformed police officer ...

"10. PHOTOGRAPHY: ... Do not photograph people at close range, particularly women, without permission. ...

"12. TIME: Don't be impatient with local people. It's interpreted as a sign of insincerity or a lack of self-control. If you hurry, they may take offense and little will be accomplished. ...

"17. PROFANITY: Foul language is particularly offensive to the Saudi public.

"WELCOME TO THE UNITED STATES CENTRAL COMMAND AND SAUDI ARABIA! OPERATION DESERT SHIELD."

Islam In The Past

For a thousand years Islam raided, invaded, stormed, burned, and on two occasions almost overran all of Christendom. One invasion conquered Egypt, North Africa, Spain, and was barely stopped in the heart of France. Another Islamic steamroller from the opposite direction was narrowly stopped at Vienna.

Islamic warriors invaded Spain, Sicily, Southern Italy, Greece, Southern Russia, and most of Eastern Europe. Her corsairs raided the British and French coasts for slaves. Europe had to pay tribute to gain permission to sail ships on the high seas.

Islam brought down and destroyed the world's greatest empire, greater than the rest of the West put together, the Christian empire of Constantinople. Islam is the hereditary enemy of the Christian West.

Shortsightedly, the West and the USSR both used the warlike tendencies of these people to market their expensive military hardware which was paid for with oil dollars. It was a powerful stimulus for world economies.

Then, the Israeli nation which had recently wedged themselves into their midst, complained that this armament was causing her Arab enemies to be too powerful for her to handle. One of them in particular - Iraq.

Iraq lies in the geographic center of Mideast Islam. If her military power were destroyed and the country occupied by a power more powerful than any of her neighbors, the Mideast would then become safe for the Israeli nation, and the rest of the Arab world would also become peaceful in time. As a bonus, the power that occupied the Arab world would also control their oil, and, Europe and Japan who were dependent on this oil for energy. The occupying power (or powers) would exercise indirect control the world.

Iraq became the new Evil Empire and was enticed into making a 4th attempt to re-annex Kuwait. She thought she had done her homework when she naively asked D.C. if there were any offensive/defensive agreements between the U.S. and Kuwait. She foolishly believed the United States when it assured her that there were no such offensive/defensive treaties with Kuwait. The Iraqis took this to mean that the road was clear, and that the U.S. would not intervene any more than they had intervened when the Soviets invaded or suppressed Afghanistan, Czechoslovakia, Lithuania and Estonia. Iraq felt that America had no interest in Kuwait.

The Peace That Follows

Many strongly suspect that the massive invasion of the Arab world and the attack on Iraq has not been thoroughly thought through any more than the results of massively arming the Arabs in return for short-term economic stimulation was thought through. For that matter, neither was the consequences of giving Arab Palestine to the Jews thought through.

America and her allies can with relative ease defeat and occupy Iraq, if she wishes to forego the economic benefits of an extended police action, and sit on Iraqi ruins for the next 50 years if they desire. Spy satellites can spot Arab military convoys to enable occupying forces to smash them with missiles before they can go 100 miles. But will it work?

Though not understandable by Jewish or Western logic, Saddam Hussein has been faithful to the requirements of the Quoran. If he lives, he will be looked on as one who stood for Allah against the Great Devil. If he dies, he will become a martyr who will in time achieve a place in Islam just below Mohammed himself.

The Great Devil

Islam speaks loudly against the "Great Devil." Who does Islam say is this Great Devil? It is those who attack her. They look with scorn on those whose normal every day acts must be toned down by Army advisory pronouncements - whose normal behavior is offensive to Islamic peoples. The Islamic peoples of the world believe that they are morally superior in most respects to the TV-trained Christian West.

The New Age

This is a new age we are living in. An Islam depending on American and Soviet-made tanks, planes, missiles, and millions of men under arms has proved to be a disastrously weak Islam. A million men with 2nd hand equipment find it almost impossible to kill a handful of invaders. However, one muslim in a truck sacrificed himself to kill 120 invading U.S. marines in a barracks in Lebanon. One muslim in New York sacrificed himself to walk up and shoot Zionism's most militant advocate. One muslim retaliated for the shooting down of an Iranian airliner in the gulf by blowing up an American airliner over Scotland. This is a new kind of warfare - one that F-16s, Patriot missiles, and the latest radar sighting devices can't defend against. It is a defense/offense that has been successful, and one that can go on and on. This matter has not been thought through.

In spite of Islamic shortcomings seen so clearly through Western eyes, Islam considers herself cleaner and purer. Islam sees her men as more dedicated. They prove it by freely sacrificing themselves for their people and to obey the demands of Allah their god.

War's Tally Sheet

America, for oil, for political obligations to special groups, and simple narrow mindedness, has allowed herself to be entrapped in Near East flypaper. Her entry into Islam will be like the German armies flowing onto the steps of Russia. Both Russia and Islam are easy to get into and very difficult to get out of again, intact.

Make no mistake, the Jews have taught Islam to hate with a cold deadly hate. Christendom is now included in this hate. Islam hates while she keeps and counts the tallies. For each of the "faithful" who dies - in time, maybe months later, or years - another barracks will go up in smoke, another plane will fall from the skies, another ship will sink, another hostage will be taken, another leader will die. Christendom will pay, and pay, and pay. Life for life. Blood for blood. Week after week, year after year.

This war that has begun will end when Christendom is at least as morally clean as Islam, more just, more righteous, and her men as willing to die for their God as mohammedans are for theirs'. Christendom's dealings with Islam must become just and fair.

But now, that day will be a long time coming. The thing that must be dealt with is called "Jihad" - Holy War! A thing that Westerners don't really understand, but their memories will become refreshed. It is something that goes on, and on, and on - .

The "peace that follows" may lie generations in the future - on the other side of stacked bodies of sons and husbands.

LETTERS

HOSTAGE SHIELDS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Re Iraqis using hostages for shields. My grandfather served in the 11th Virginia. He was captured at Milford Station, Virginia in 1864, and taken to the Morris Island fort, Charleston Harbor, SC, where he and 100 other Southern prisoners were stood in front of the fort as a human shield to keep the Southerners in Fort Sumpter from shooting at them. They could shoot at Fort Sumpter but Fort Sumpter couldn't shoot back. The story can be found in Personal Reminiscences 1861-1865 by Capt. W. H. Morgan, J.P. Bell, Lynchburg, VA, 1911." B. K. - Virginia

BLOODLESS WAR: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Just talked to a high ranking army officer who said that this Iraqi War may be one of the most bloodless wars ever fought." A. H. - DC

ED: Perhaps. On the other hand on a major network I saw a private video clip said to be taken of a night bombing raid on Baghdad. The exploding bombs were like hundreds of twinkling points of light and took place over a two square mile area. The impacts seemed to be as close together as handfuls of gravel thrown into a lake. This appeared to my eye to be carpet bombing. If so, the list of civilian casualties in Baghdad may make surprising reading - if ever released.

M.E. PREDICTION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Just re-read p. 202 in your War Cycles / Peace Cycles. You predicted the invasion of the Near East back in 1985. I've re-read that book 15 times." G. B. - Tennessee

USURY OWNS US: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: If banks refuse to lend money - business will stop. If they lend $10 for $11 without foreclosing existing debt out of existence in depressions now and then - debt will grow so large that people will pay everything they earn to the banks for interest and there will be nothing left for anything else. It would seem that taxes are confessions - that being debt-free is not enough. You must still borrow $10 for $11 to pay the taxes - if you don't, they foreclose. The system owns us from top to bottom - like it or not." J. W. - Ohio

GOLD vs SILVER: "Dear Dick: Why is silver/gold spread so wide? P. G. - Nebraska

ED: Gold has been made "backup-money" to "credit" while silver had been made just another commodity.

Interesting story: In the 15th & 16th centuries, gold and silver were traded even in Japan. The Dutch brought in trunks of silver and exchanged them for gold, stripping Japan of its gold and wrecking their economy. Japan then shut down all trade with Westerners, declaring them to be crooks. If you look at it from their point of view - they were.

COMPLIMENT?: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I find your prose excessively verbose, repetitive and too anecdotal. However, I'm indebted to you for introducing me to the concept of Adamic Man and God's Laws pertaining to usury and economics - the real cause of our financial, social and political woes. The first time I read War Cycles /Peace Cycles the scales began to fall from my eyes. I saw the truth in Christ and finally accepted him as my Savior." C. J. - Texas

ED: Thanks. As a side note, most of the founding fathers knew Latin and Greek and had more than a smattering of Hebrew. They knew precisely what they were talking about when they said that all "men" are created equal.

BECKWITH: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Have finally sent my book to a printer. Local and Mississippi legal problems now loom, but are capable of solution too. Phineas for president!" Byron de la Beckwith - Tennessee

ED: Mr. de la Beckwith, scion of an ancient family in America and before that in England, age 70, was tried and released twice after being accused by the establishment of shooting the Black radical civil rights leader, Medgar Evers. The media recently announced that after more than two decades he has once more been arrested and will be tried a third time. It is claimed that two witnesses have stepped forward after having been quiet for 20 years. His book, which will soon be in print, should be interesting reading.

OBEY RULERS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The New Testament clearly states that one must obey the authorities placed over them. "Obey in all things your masters ... And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as to the Lord." Col 3:22,23 "Be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates. Tit 3:1 The authorities have the right to order citizens to do whatever they like and citizens are required by God to obey their orders." G. A. - New York

ED: God does not war against Himself. Scripture cannot be interpreted so that some scripture will war with other scripture. God does not fight himself. It is true that citizens must obey authorities placed over them, but this assumes that the authorities are just and are obeying God's commands. LAW;obey WORD or state If there is a conflict - God's law prevails. "We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29. The overriding law is "Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." Eccles. 3:1; "Not everyone shall enter into the kingdom of heaven but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Matt 7:21.

¹GETTING FBI FILE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: How do I get a copy of my file that the FBI keeps in their data banks on American citizens?" D. R. - Wisconsin

ED: Write a note such as the following. "Dear Sir, Please send me a copy of my FBI file, under the Freedom Of

1 BI;how to get your file

Information Act. Thanking you, I am Sincerely, (signed)."
 Have your signature notarized so that the FBI will know that they are not releasing your file to a third party, and send it to "FBI, Washington, D.C.." If you have a file, you will receive only parts of it. It will be well-censored.

Chapter 198

THE SEVEN RULES OF DEBT

In War Cycles / Peace Cycles, p 250, are listed Hoskins 7 Rules Of Interest.

1. The money supply WILL be expanded to allow debtors to pay interest on their loans.

Our rulers made a mistake in money management. They allowed the growth of the nation's debt to decline beyond the safety level. It declined to the point where bank interest payments siphoned off the existing floating supply of money. There developed a monetary black hole - there was almost no money in circulation. This triggered rule #1. The money supply WILL be expanded!

To expand the money supply in a usury society is not easy when the only method of expansion is to borrow money into existence. People do not like to borrow. Keynes, the usury system's spokesman, said that since people will not voluntarily go into debt they must be MADE to go into debt. WAR is the easiest way. People will not spend $20,000 for a new car but, under threat of a vicious, mad, atrocity-committing enemy, they will spend $2,000,000 for a tank to defend themselves - a tank that will become obsolete in 5 years, or will be worn out and will have to be replaced.

Since this is so obvious, it only remains to figure out which nation will produce the most debt from a suitable war. In 1985, War Cycles / Peace Cycles listed three. The oil-producing Mideast, South Africa, and the United States.

The next year the media began to prepare the world for war against South Africa, an effort that failed when the future black rulers of the nation began to squabble among themselves. This left the oil producing nations of the Mideast who were next on the list.

2. It does no good to have unlimited funds in banks. The money must be in circulation where debtors can get it to pay interest.

Certain of these oil-producing Arab nations had unwittingly committed a cardinal sin. They hoarded much of their oil wealth squeezed from the merchants of the world who were forced to borrow money into existence to pay for the oil price increase. World money managers increased the price of oil from a comparatively nominal $2.50 a barrel to an astronomical $40 a barrel. This was the equivilant in magnitude to war borrowing.

The newly rich Arabs were temporary custodians of this wealth.¹ The Arabs couldn't help it. What does a camel driver spend money on after he has built a swimming pool, an air conditioned stall for his camel, bought a Rolls, built a garage to put it in, and a highway to drive it on? Not much. The rest of the money just sat in banks. A no-no in international finance. It requires the proper tool to pry it loose.

3. When money expansion stops, interest rapidly eats up the floating supply causing monetary strangulation and crash.

Number 3, strangulation and crash, resulted from the absence of a Vietnam War, a substitute for the carefully manipulated on-going war between Iraq and Iran, and the reluctance of the oil-producing nations to spend the money they had. Deflation was in progress in the West. But all was not lost. The solution had been planned years ago.

4. Interest will destroy any obstacle to its expansion and survival.

Constitutional restrictions to foreign wars? Nonsense! Not when the media elect the government and you own the media. To get something started all that needs be done is to make someone do something stupid and then shoot him for it. Iraq properly inquired about U.S. interests in Kuwait. American representatives replied that they had no treaty offensive/defensive arrangements. Iraq interpreted this to mean that she could take over Kuwait - as she was meant to. Sucker!

"Mad-man Hussein", "atrocities," "liar," "coward", "chemical warfare," etc., etc. The fellow they were talking about was the same fellow whose Saad Party that put him into office had been financed by the CIA. He was the fair-haired chap who earlier had fought against the Iranian "mad-man Ayatollah."

But now, he was needed in a different role. After taking the bait he marched in to Kuwait, and neglected (?) to turn tail and run at the first sign of wrath from the noble, caesar-like, leader on the Potomac. He stood like a dumb sheep waiting to be sheared - and sheared he was. The ball was carried in a masterful manner by the media, as it always is.

5. Interest requires a heavy tax rate so that money will not be hoarded but circulated to pay interest.

Consider the recent unpleasantness in the Mideast form of tax collection.

6. All users of the interest system - both debtors & creditors - become involuntary slaves of the system.

How did you like the recent layoffs? the recent downturn in building activity? the recent cutbacks in municipal budgets? the reduced pay-checks? Not much - huh? How do you like it now that oil-producing Texas and Colorado are coming to life, the stock market is trending up? and American companies are getting war contracts? Feels better - doesn't it? This is a large part of the reason that Americans cheer as they watch the boys march away once again. It's especially gratifying when the end result shows only a few score of "ours" killed and tens of thousands of "evil empire" dead. "That didn't hurt so much, and look at all the good it did! All for freedom and democracy in the Mideast!"

7. Never will the usurer - or his hireling - show mercy to his victim.

The above needs little explanation or elaboration - . When the world's rulers fear possible reprisals, a President Davis is always locked away to die in the damp side of a Fortress Monroe, or hanged at Nuremberg. Starvation and misery and death will not stop what needs to be done for the system to survive.

Score Card

1. This recent war has forced Saudi Arabia, Japan, and others to put their hoarded money in circulation.

2. It will put both the victim and the assailant in debt to put humpty-dumpty back together again. "Smart bombs" sought out and destroyed expensive buildings, bridges, oil producing equipment, municipal water works, etc., all of which require many billions to be borrowed into existence to have rebuilt. Entire cities have to be rebuilt.

3. It depleted or destroyed Iraqi and Saudi Arabia's multi- billion dollar military stock pile which must be replaced.

4. It used up much of the obsolete multi-billion dollar U.S. military stock pile which also must be replaced.

5. It has "forced" congress to borrow money into existence to pay for the execution of the "just war", and possibly recontruction a la another Marshall Plan.

Side Benefits

The recent war:

1. Cleared a possible military obstacle to millions of Jewish immigrants pouring into Arab Palestine.

2. Took the spotlight off the atrocities being committed against Palestinian Arabs.

3. Took the spotlight off the transfer of hundreds of billions of building and loan assets to the international usury banks.

4. And, it assures that Brushfire Bush will have another 4 years in office to continue doing what he is doing - although almost anybody could be put there as a figurehead to do what he is being told to do.

The Three Cards

1. America's rulers have now played their Mideast card. It has been tremendously successful. Billions upon billions are being borrowed into existence - and happy days are here again - until another "fix" is needed. It is doubtful if this region can be used in the same way again.

2. The South African card is still in the wings waiting to be played. The simple will find it difficult to see how such a small handful of Whites can be used to justify a war to stop them from conquering the world, but, with faith, media hype and ballyhoo, all things are possible.

If a dress rehearsal invasion of Panama or Granada by the army, navy, and airforce of the United States super-power can be media-justified, a full scale invasion of Coney Island can be also justified - much less South Africa which is many times larger than Coney Island.

A cynic can easily envision thousand-plane raids against hostile Johannesburg, the country covered by attacking gunships knocking out poison-gas factories, atomic bomb plants, and camps making soap out of the bodies of the downtrodden natives who were killed for that purpose. That same cynic can easily envision a half- million man invading army being landed to free the millions of starving inmates of South African concentration camps, end the evil medical experiments on the oppressed downtrodden natives, stop their germ warfare capabilities, and end the despicable white-minority discrimination against the majority-blacks who cannot vote in their own country.

Yes, the cynic see how an excuse can be made to borrow billions into existence to prosecute a war against "mad-man somebody" in South Africa - a somebody probably in the pay of the CIA. Of course, this is scraping the bottom of the barrel. After this card is played there remains one more card.

3. The United States.

IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS

The following is from The Upright Ostrich Chairman Henry Gonzalez (D. Texas) of the U.S. House Banking Committee ... has introduced a resolution for the impeachment of George Bush. ... as provided by the U.S. Constitution, Article II, Section 4:

- 1. Bush 'has prepared, planned, and conspired to engage in a massive war against Iraq, employing methods of mass destruction that will result in the killing of tens of thousands of civilians, many of whom will be children ... (which) violates the Hague Convention of 1887 and 1923, the Geneva Convention of 1949, and Protocol I thereto, the Nuremberg Charter, the Genocide Convention, and the United Nations Declarations of Human Rights.
- 2. Bush 'has planned, prepared, and conspired to commit crimes against the peace by leading the U.S. into aggressive war against Iraq in violation of Article 2 (4) of the UN Charter, the Nuremberg Charter, other international instruments and treaties and the Constitution of the United States.

- 3. Bush has 'violated the U.S. Constitution, federal law, and the U.N. Charter by bribing, intimidating and threatening others, including members of the UN Security Council, to support belligerent acts against Iraq.
- 4. In spite of Congressional ratification of the U.N. Security Council Resolution of November 29, 1990, The president has not received a declaration of war by Congress, and ... has declared that he will go to war regardless of the views of Congress and the American people.'"

Ask Rep. Gonzalez or your congressman to send you a copy from the Congressional Record of this fine speech reviewing our descent into such 'king-made' serfdom."

NOTE: The above article is important, but for reasons other than the obvious ones. The writer believes that the Constitution, and other guarantees of rights, exist today in theory only. The reason - the people who created the Constitution to rule themselves no longer rule. In my lifetime, the never-ending appeals to "Constitutional rights" have been futile.

What is a fact is that if a ruler controls the left and the right - he will find it easier to control the middle. If he controls the up and the down - he will tend to control the middle. If he controls the attacker and the defender he will control that which is being attacked and defended.

Congressman Gonzalez is a brave conservative. His words have merit. They are worthy of study. He is one of the few with the nerve to take a stand. It is also true that the selection of Gonzolis to lead the protest of American Con-stitutionalists gives them a Hispanic for a leader. Such a selection violates basic beliefs and ensures that the protest will go in circles - as it was meant to. A control of the right and the left will tend to control the middle.

A Soldier's Opinion Of Modern War

Also copied from Upright Ostrich, Jan/Feb, 1991

I believe in adequate defense at the coastline and in nothing else. If a nation comes over here to fight, then we'll fight. The trouble with America is that when the dollar only earns 6% over here, then it gets restless and goes overseas to get 100%. Then the flag follows the dollar and the soldiers follow the flag.

I wouldn't go to war again, as I have done, to defend some lousy investment of the bankers. There are only two things that we should fight for. One is the defense of our homes and the other is the Bill Of Rights. War for any other reason is simply a racket.

There isn't a trick in the racketeering bag that the military gang is blind to. It has its 'finger men' to point out enemies, its 'muscle men' to destroy enemies, its 'brain men' to plan war preparations, and a 'Big Boss' - Supernationalistic Capitalism.

... I spent 33 years and 4 months in active military service as a member of our country's most agile military force - the Marine Corps. I served in all commissioned ranks from 2nd Lt. to Major-General, and during that period I spent most of my time being a high class muscle man for Big Business, for Wall Street, and for the Bankers. In short, I was a racketeer, a gangster for capitalism. ...

Like all members of the military profession, I never had an original thought until I left the service. My mental facilities remained in suspended animation while I obeyed the orders of higher-ups. This is typical with everyone in the military service.

I helped make Mexico... safe for American oil interests in 1914. I helped make Haiti and Cuba a decent place for the National City Bank boys to collect revenue in. I helped in the raping of half a dozen Central American republics for the benefit of Wall Street. ... I helped purify Nicaragua for the international banking house of Brown Brothers in 1909-1912. I brought light to the Dominican Republic for American sugar interests in 1916. In China I helped see to it that Standard Oil went its way unmolested. - Major-General Smedley Butler.

ED: The uninformed read of another outbreak of anti-Americanism in a foreign country and wonder why the world hates the "ugly American". Pleading ignorance is not enough. Both God and man will hold us responsible, as a people, for the actions of those who have placed themselves over us to rule the nation for their own benefit. The cup is overflowing.

"Greetings: Just finished reading Vigilantes Of Christendom - and a resurgence of Christian fervor burst into flame. The game of life is obedience to God." Rev. - Texas

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: As long as the U.S. is in the war - why not nuke the Arabs?" S. A. - Virginia

ED: Nuking the Arabs would end the war - the war now so desperately needed. Peace would mean unemployment, hunger, the works. On the positive side, if the U.S. nuked

Iraq and then took on the occupation and rebuilding of the country, the spending would go on for 10 or 15 years. Perhaps I was hasty. Nuking may have merit. It would save American lives and still allow the spending. Maybe someone should get the Iraqis' input since big bucks would be flowing in their way, too. Need to be democratic - don't want to go off half-cocked on this thing.

"Dear Dick: Just finished reading your latest and best. Some sections more than once. You mentioned Wake Up America by Lambert Schyler. I bot a 50¢ copy in 1940 and still have it. "Dear Dick: Re VIGILANTES - Wow!! And several more 'wows'!!! They deprive us of our history and write their version and call it 'ours.'" N. I. - New York²

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: I know about the story of Judge Lynch and the court held under the Lynch Tree, but where did 'hanging' itself come from? K. M. - North Carolina

ED: Hanging is an ancient custom. It is to display, not kill. An offender against the king is hanged on a tree.

*"He that is hanged is accursed of God." De 21:23,
"If a man have committed a sin worthy of death, and he shall be put to death, and thou shall hang him on a tree, thou shall surely bury him that day that the land be not defiled." De 21:22*

² Vigilantes Of Christendom, Hoskins, Virginia Publishing Company, PO Box 997, Lynchburg, Virginia 24505, $15+$3p&h.

"The man who revileth the king should be hanged upon a tree." Jasher 12:5 (quoting ancient law of Nimrod).

In Christian nations God is king. His Law is supreme. Whoever violates His law and is worthy of death is first executed in a manner that spills blood:

"Ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer ... he shall surely be put to death. ... For blood it defileth the land: and the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed there in, but by the blood of him that shed it." Nu 36:31-33, "The earth will not be clean of the blood which has been spilt upon it, but only by the blood of him that shed it." Jubilees 7:27, "Do not receive any present for any blood of man ... for this blood which is spilt causes sin upon the earth, and it cannot be cleansed ... except by blood being shed; and do not receive a present or any gift for the blood of man; blood for blood." Jubilees 21:17

Hollywood's Wild West slow death by hanging strangulation, or modern electrocution, or the garrote used to murder Rudolf Hess do not spill blood and so are forbidden. When the offender against God's law has been executed so that his blood is shed upon the ground, THEN, his body is taken and hanged upon a tree as an example to others.

Traditionally, a man found dead lying on the ground was presumed murdered. If found on a tree - presumed executed for an offense against the king. Investigation determined the truth. The last criminal executed in Virginia and displayed in the manner prescribed was back in the 1930s.

There is a story of Judge Lynch's ancestor back in Ireland who hanged his own son from the walls of his castle for violating a young girl. Even though Virginia's Judge Lynch never hanged anyone, he was descended from a line that had.

The establishment appears indifferent about murder on the streets, but objects violently to executions where the criminal is displayed upon a tree in the traditional manner. You know - separation of church and state: i.e. the separation of OUR church from THEIR state.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: I knew that Britain invaded South Africa during the Boer War, but until I read your VC I didn't know about their awful concentration camps and the burnings they did while they were there." G. E. - Virginia

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: In your opinion, who is the single most dangerous enemy of the Christian West?" R. C. - South Carolina

ED: Easy! Satan's priests posing as Christians, paid by tax exemption to proclaim that "Christians are saved by grace and forgiven from having to obey God's Law."

They NEVER utter the following and can usually be identified because of their refusal: (1) "We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29, and (2) "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15.

Result for the deceived listener: (1) "With harlots and adulterers shall ye be joined, and the daughter of the Gentiles shall ye take to wife purifying them with an unlawful purification." Testament of Levi 4:17, (2) "Thou hast forsaken thy people ... because they ... please themselves in the children of strangers." Isaiah 2:6

For Satan's priest himself: (1) "Cursed be he that doeth the work of the Lord deceitfully." Jer 48:10, (2) "If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn to death, and those that are ready to be slain ... behold ... doth not he know it? And shall not he render to every man according to his works?" Prov 24:11-12.

Listen past the pretty words of the one calling himself "minister of God" and let him tell you if he speaks for Christ or the ancient foe. The wolf in sheeps clothing is the most dangerous of all.

Chapter 199

THE LITTLE MONKEY

Elevator Talk

One morning thirty-two years ago, I stepped on the elevator to go to the Dupont office on the second floor of the Krise Building where I worked as a stockbroker. The elevator operator was a tall nice mulatto named James. I liked James.

James had his face averted so I couldn't see at first. When he turned I never saw such a sight. He had bandages, cuts, eyes swollen so he could hardly see, and big knots that so disfigured his face he was unrecognizable until he spoke.

I asked, "What in the world happened to you?"

He replied, "I got a monkey on my back."

"What in the world are you talking about?" I had really never seen such a sight outside of a hospital, and then only once.

James seemed hesitant, but then he answered. "Well, you know that there was a fair last night 'cross the river in Madison-Heights. Well, I went."

"There was a ring there with a colored fella' fighting a monkey. It was a big monkey. The monkey was scared and the colored fella' chased him around and whipped him too, and won $10 dollars for doing it."

"Then, the ring master brought out a little monkey and offered a hundred dollars to anyone who could whip him. I figured if that other fella' could whip the big monkey, I could whip the little one, so I was first in line. There was one thing the man didn't tell - It was that the little monkey was the mean one."

"They put a mask on the little monkey so he couldn't bite, and they put gloves on him. Put gloves on me too and let us go at each other. I figured I'd end this fast, so I wound up and hit that monkey as hard as I could. I knocked that monkey for a loop and made him mad. He landed on his feet and came right for me quick as lightning and then I knew I was in trouble."

"He hit me fifty times so fast I couldn't see, then jumped on my shoulders, wrapped his legs around my neck, and started beating me from behind. I couldn't get to him to hit him, I couldn't get away from him, I couldn't get him off my back. When he got tired of that he got in front of me with his legs still locked around my neck and kept beating on me while he tried to bite my face off. There he was a half an inch away from me with his teeth just snapping. The only thing saving me from having my face eaten off was his mask - but I didn't think of the mask. I just saw his teeth!"

"I pushed him off with all my might and made a dash for the ropes, dropped to my knees to crawl under, but before I could get away that monkey grabbed my foot and dragged me back again into the ring and beat me up some more."

"After a while the man stopped the fight and let me go. That's the last time I'm ever going to get into a ring with a monkey. Don't ever let one of them things get on your back - if they do they'll half kill you."

Big-Monkey Saddam

There's a lesson in this. The ring master gave Bush $10 to beat up on Saddam - the "big monkey". Bush tricked him into the ring and beat the tar out of him. Now, Bush is walking around the ring holding his hands over his head telling everyone who will listen how great he is and to vote for him next election. The ring master is even talking about taking big-monkey Saddam and holding a war crimes trial for him so he can beat up on him some more - like Noriega. But:

What is the big monkey Saddam doing right now?

He's fighting for his life against the little monkey. The little one's the mean one. Who's that? Why, the Shiite moslems. They are the mean ones. They are using Saddam's defeat as an excuse to get rid of Saddam, take over Iraq and do things right. Thousands have been killed already and the Republican Guard has all it can do to try to hold the little monkey down. Saddam is a Sunni moslem. There's only one Shiite for every 50 Sunnis, but believe it! The Shiites are the mean ones. All it takes is one.

If "watch my lips" pulls Saddam off the Shiites, they will jump off the mat and wrap their legs around Bush's neck and beat him so that you won't be able to tell James and George apart. Can't the U.S. do to the Shiites the same thing they did to the Saddam Sunnis?

Sure, but with one difference. Sunnis want to live for Allah. Shiites prefer to die for Allah. It took one Shiite driver to drive the truck loaded with explosives that killed 240 American marines. A minute after the first truck exploded, a second truck driven by a Shiite killed 75 French airborne troopers the same way.

Only one Shiite placed a bomb that dropped the American airliner in pieces on Lockerbie, Scotland, to retaliate for Muslims killed on the Iranian airliner shot into the Gulf by the American navy.

One can kill 99% of the Shiites, and it takes only one survivor to land a back-packable atomic bomb, bought from a drunken Soviet soldier for two bottles of vodka, on a beach in Virginia. From there it is only a couple of hours to Washington. Anybody can walk or drive to within 100 yards of the president at the White House, or walk inside the Capitol.

Our ring-master put America in the ring for $10. Now. Let's see how our leaders handle themselves as they go for the $100 prize.

Koran Directions

Most Muslims are Sunnis. Many Sunnis believe, as many establishment Christians in the West do, that God's law is done away and they can do whatever they want to do. But the Sunnis are not as bad about this as establishment Christians.

The Shiites, on the other hand, believe the Koran right down to the last jot and tittle written in it. They believe further that there is great merit in dying for their beliefs. Islam has a lot of things going for it, but, some of the things written in it cause concern among non-Islamic peoples.

Following is a sample from the Koran's Book of Repentance.

"Allah will humble the unbelievers." Repentance 9:1

"Allah and His apostle are free from obligation to the idolaters." Repe 9:1

"Allah and His apostle repose no trust in idolaters." 9:4

"Make war on them: Allah will chastise them through you and humble them." 9:14

"None should visit the mosques of Allah except those who believe in Allah and the Last Day." 9:14

"Believers, do not befriend your fathers or your brothers if they choose unbelief in preference to faith." 9:14

"Allah has been with you on many a battlefield... He sent to your aid invisible warriors and sternly punished the unbelievers. Thus were the infidels rewarded." 9:26

"Believers, know that the idolaters are unclean. Let them not approach the Sacred Mosque." 9:26¹

"Fight against such of those to whom ... do not embrace the true faith, until ... they are utterly subdued." 9:26

"Proclaim a woeful punishment to those that hoard up gold and silver and do not spend it in Allah's cause." 9:34

"Allah ordained the months ... four are sacred ... But you may fight against idolaters in all these months." 9:35

"Believers, why is it that when it is said to you: 'March in the cause of Allah', you linger slothfully in the land? Are you content

1 The Christian religion teaches the same thing. "When the tabernacle is to be pitched ... the stranger (Heb: zwer - racial alien) that cometh nigh shall be put to death." Numbers 1:51. So does the Jewish Talmud. The Talmud says of those teaching the Torah to non-Jews "Such a person deserves death." Sanh. 59a Hagigah 13a. and "A Goi who pries into the Law is guilty of death." Sanh 59a, Pranaitis. Brotherhood means different things in different religions. Christians believe, "Whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother." Math 12:50. This excludes those who don't.

with this life in preference to the life to come? ... If you do not fight He will punish you sternly." 9:38

"Whether unarmed or well-equipped, march on and fight for the cause of Allah, with your wealth and your persons." 9:41

"Are they not aware that the man who defied Allah and His apostle shall abide for ever in the fire of Hell?" 9:62

"Allah has promised ... the unbelievers, the fire of Hell. ... The curse of Allah is upon them; theirs shall be a lasting torment." 9:67

"Prophet, make war on the unbelievers and the hypocrites and deal rigorously with them. Hell shall be their home." 9:73

"Those that stayed at home ... had no wish to fight for the cause of Allah with their wealth and their persons. They said ... 'Do not go to war, the heat is fierce.' Say to them: 'More fierce is the heat of Hell-fire!'" 9:81

The "saved by grace" and do anything you want crowd² in the West take the Laws of Christianity with a grain of salt. The Sunnis of Islam take the above words from the Koran with a grain of salt.

The Shiites believe them to the letter, and many Sunnis sympathize with the Shiites in this.

Neither do the descendants of Western crusaders take the words of their own Christian God with a grain of salt and they frown on those who do.

The "saved by grace" crowd in Washington may have started something that the god they call upon, whoever he is, cannot finish. Their acts may have said to Islamic "believers" - why don't you fight Christian "believers."

2 There is only one people who were ever lost from their God. Jesus said that he came to save them: "I am come to save that which is lost." He also said "I am not sent but to the lost sheep of the house of Israel, and to them only." The lost Christian must recognize his God as master to be saved, but not saved so that he can do away with the God who saved him and do as he likes.

If this is indeed what has been done, rest assured, those who have unleashed the whirlwind will not escape.

MEDIA DIRECTED DEMOCRACY

One of the conditions for peace the U.S. has placed on Iraq is that they adopt a democratic form of government - not a republican form of government, a monarchy, or a single party government - a democratic form of government.

This means that there will be multi political parties whose leaders will be elected by the mass of people.

The mass of the Iraqi citizens will be told for whom to vote by the media. Whoever owns the Iraqi media will then rule Iraq. We in the U.S. know all about that. It is the conquest that follows the conquest. "Democracy" - yeah! Look at us!

BOOK OF DAN: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: "Vigilantes" left a great impression on me. One quote:

"The enemy is eager to destroy all that call upon the Lord. For he knoweth that upon the day that Israel shall repent, the kingdom of the enemy shall be brought to an end." Book of Dan. 2:16-17.

"I have never heard a better summation of the struggle we are now involved in. I cannot find the quote in the book of Daniel. Could you point me in the right direction?"

ED: You can find it in the Book of Dan, also called the Testament of Dan, found in The Lost Books of The Bible & and the Forgotten Books of Eden. Order from your book dealer or from us.

Verse 19 goes on to say:

"It shall be in the time of the lawlessness of Israel, that the Lord will not depart from them, but will transform them into a nation that doeth His will ... and His name shall be in every place in Israel."

I have found that The Law reads the same in all the ancient scriptures. I Enoch 104:7-11 gives the reason:

"I point out a mystery: Many sinners shall ... utter falsehood ... and compose books in their own words. But when they shall write all my words correctly in their own languages, They shall ... write them all correctly. ... Another mystery also I point out. To the righteous and the wise shall be given books of joy, of integrity, and of great wisdom. ... who from these shall acquire the knowledge of every upright path."

BLACKS IN S. AFRICA: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Why were there no Blacks in South Africa when the Whites arrived?"
N. G. - S. Africa

ED: Too cold. It wasn't until the Whites built shelters for Blacks in S. Africa that they could live there.

SHERMAN THE BANKER: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The following is one author's response made concerning Sherman's military actions: 'Joshua Abraham Norton, a Jewish San Francisco merchant, borrowed heavily to corner the rice market, then lost everything - land, riches and 'reason.' His banker was William T. Sherman, the same Sherman who nine years later would march a plundering Union army through Georgia. ... A bankrupted Joshua Norton might have understood why his land was seized to settle a debt, but ... (he) would never have understood why the same banker burned Atlanta to settle a conflict already won.' from Norton I, Emperor of the U.S., William Drury, NY 1986."

D. E. - Georgia

ED: A banker could. Sherman, the banker turned soldier, was creating demand. Wherever he went he burned. Whatever he burned had to be rebuilt - rebuilt with money borrowed from the N.Y. branch banks of the people who burned it down. These new banks opened their doors as fast as the arsonists marched out of town. When you see bombs toppling out of airplane bomb-bay doors, don't think of the dead women and children and destroyed cities and homes, just think of it as creating demand.

JESSE JAMES, POLICEMAN: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I just finished reading Vigilantes. We in Missouri know the true story of Jesse James, and I for one want to thank you for bringing it out. Jesse and his band were the only police we had." L. E. - Missouri

MOSES MARRIES A CUSHITE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Jesus said he would (1) make for himself a people "out of all nations," and in Revelation 7:9-10 it says "I beheld ... a great multitude ... of all nations, and kindreds, and peoples, and tongues ... before the throne." And (2) there is the story of Miriam, Moses' sister, who spent a full week outside the camp with leprosy, stricken by god because she criticized Moses' marriage to a Cushite (Ethiopian woman). What is the reconciliation between these views." J. E. - California

ED: Q1 Most discrepancies can be reconciled by remembering that the word is given to Israel only. "He showed his word ... his statutes and his Judgments unto Israel. He hath not delt so with any nation ... they have not known thee." Ps 147:19,20. "All nations" refer to all the nations of Israel.

Q2. Moses' sister was punished for spreading falsehood. It is true that Moses did marry a Cushite, but it was not as it seems. The full story is in the ancient book of Jasher. For those who are interested and have not read it, I excerpted the following:

"Moses ... saw an Egyptian smiting one of his Hebrew brethren. ... and when he saw there was no man there he smote the Egyptian and hid him in the sand ...and Moses was afraid and he said, surely the thing is known! ...

"And it was in those days that there was a great war between the children of Cush and the children of the east. ... So Kikianus king of Cush went forth ... to fight... And when Kikianus went out, he left Balaam³ the magician, with his two sons, to guard the city ... (Balaam) rose up and ... rebelled against king Kikianus... And the people ... made him king over them, and his two sons for captains of the army....

"And when Kikianus the king of Cush approached his city and ... saw that the walls of the city were built up .. the men were astonished ... and behold, all the gates of the city were closed, ... So they raised a battle with them ...

"At that time ... Moses fled from Egypt from Pharaoh who sought to kill him for having slain the Egyptian. And Moses ... fled and escaped to the camp of Kikianus, which at that time was besieging Cush. And Moses was 9 years in the camp of Kikianus king of Cush ... And the king and princes and all the fighting men loved Moses ... And at the end of 9 years Kikianus was seized with a mortal disease ... and he died...

"In the 55th year of the reign of pharaoh king of Egypt ... reigned Moses in Cush. Moses was 27 years old ... and 40 years did he reign. ... And all the children of Cush ... spoke ... saying, give us counsel that we may see what is to be done to this city. For it is now 9 years that we have been besieging around about the city, and have not seen our children and our wives. ...

3 This is the same Balaam who advised Balak to place the daughters and wives of strangers near the sons of Israel so that they would go in unto them and this would cause the God of Israel to become angry and destroy his own people.

"And they approached and fought against the city and took it... And Balaam ... and his two sons and 8 brothers fled and returned to Egypt to Pharaoh king of Egypt. They are the sorcerers and magicians who are mentioned in the book of the law ...

"So Moses took the city ... and the children of Cush placed him on the throne ... and they gave him for a wife Adoniah the Cushite queen, wife of Kikianus.

"And Moses feared the Lord God of his fathers, so that he came not to her, nor did he turn his eyes to her. For Moses remembered how Abraham had made his servant Eleaser swear, saying unto him, thou shalt not take a woman from the daughters of Canaan for my son Isaac. ... thou shalt not take a wife from the daughters of Canaan, nor make alliance with any of the children of Ham. ... Therefore Moses turned not his heart nor his eyes to the wife of Kikianus all the days that he reigned over Cush." Jasher 71:2 - 73:36.

There is another story of Moses marrying a stranger and having children by her that the enemies of the Word tell to justify racial intermarriage. The following scriptures lay that story to rest.

"Aaron... saw Zipporah the wife of Moses and her children, and he said unto Moses, who are these unto thee? ...Moses said... these are my wife and sons... The thing grieved Aaron... And Aaron said to Moses, send away the woman and her children... and Moses... did so." Jasher 74:15-17.

PROVE HOLOCAUST: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: When someone declares that they believe in the 'holocaust', I do not argue with them. Instead I ask them to prove what they claim. Prove it. No argument, no name calling. They can't, and the discussion stops right there." P. G. - North Carolina PREACHERS A CURSE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I am 85 years old - and you have told the bloody truth about the whole show - Including Geo. Bush and the money lords in control. It's true - the preachers of 'saved by grace and the Law of God is dead' are a curse! I also believe that there are only 12 limbs on God's Israel tree. If God is true and My sheep hear my voice and they follow me - then some who say they are - aren't." R. W. - Texas

PREDICTING TIMES: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: You printed the poem by Widow Compton that prophesied 1991 would be the last days. Do you believe this?" - G. - North Carolina

ED: No indeed. Can't be. The scriptures say that no one knows the time. Just an interesting story. I assumed everyone knew that.

Chapter 200

WORLD WAR I CONTENDERS

Before the great war started in 1914, much of Europe was owned by kings, princes, and the Church.¹ These illegal possessions owned by king and church and held in violation of the Law were the sugar that attracted the flies.

¹ (1) MONOPOLY - "Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, and they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth." Isaiah 5:8, (2) CHURCH - PRIESTS - POSSESSIONS: "Thus saith the Lord, Shalt thou build me an house for me to dwell in?" II Sam 7:5, "I am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in Israel: I am their possession." Ez. 44:28, "The priests, the Levites, and all the tribe of Levi, shall have no part, no inheritance with Israel: ... Therefore they shall have no inheritance among their brethren: The Lord is their inheritance." Den. 18:1-2, 3. KINGS & RULERS: "Let him not have ... abundance of riches ... he may grow too proud to submit to the Laws ...and if he affect any such things let him be restrained, lest he become so potent that his state become inconsistent with your welfare." Antiquities 4:8:17

To capture this vast property a world war was fought - a war costing tens of millions of lives of the cream of the West.

In the midst of the carnage, President Wilson of the United States stepped forward as a peace mediator with his peace plan of "14 Points." The chief point was that the war would be considered a "no fault" war - everyone would go back to square one and there would be no territorial loss or any other kinds of losses. Favorable comment was heard from all sides and it seemed that this was the best plan. An armistice was declared based on these "14 points."

Unlike the armies of defeated American South, Germany's armies were intact. Germany could not be looted as the American South had been - her undefeated armies protected her. This problem was solved by a well planned and well financed communist-led revolt behind the German lines which was triggered by the announcement of the Armistice.

Most of the communist-led rebels were not communists, they were and had been loyal Germans. But, the communist leaders promised them the land owned by their forefathers - the land now unlawfully held by the king, the nobles, and the church. In effect, the communists promised the German people to return their own land to them. This was the best offer they had heard, so they followed those who promised the most - the communists.

This revolt caused the German armies to stream back from the front to suppress it, removing the main obstacle to the looting of Germany. While the German army was embroiled with the communists, the Allies welshed and forced the frustrated Germans to sign the Versailles Treaty, stripping Germany and her allies of more than 1/3 of their land, all their extensive foreign colonies, and levying a brutal tribute on them.

There was nothing vindictive about this - both the American South and South Africa had gone through this years before. It was just business.²

If the communist coup had succeeded, as it had in Russia, then the German foreign colonies, the King's land, and the Church's land would have been automatically owned by the communist establishment and there would have been no need to pry them loose by the harsh treaty demands that were actually used.

The German Inflation

The Versailles Treaty gave color of legitimacy to what followed.

In addition to the above, reparations-tribute was imposed - similar to the "taxation" by blacks forced on the American South. This reparations-tribute was required to be paid in dollars to the U.S., in pounds to the British, and francs to the French. Germany and her allies did not produce any of these currencies so they had to be borrowed from the banks of her conquerors in order to pay the claims.

The banks, having the money making monopoly, named their own terms. They were harsh. Each day they changed their terms and raised the tally. It cost more and more German marks to buy a dollar, more and more English pounds, more and more French francs. This borrowed money was given to Germany's conquerors to spend as they saw fit.

The bankers, loaded with German tribute money, sent their carpet-baggers/agents to Germany to buy up property from impoverished Germans using their own money. It cost a billion marks for a starving German to buy a loaf of bread. It didn't cost much more to buy his house, his factory, or his farm, and the banker/agents were loaded with trillions of German marks to spend on whatever still had value in Germany.

A protest party emerged in Germany - the Nationalist Socialist German Workers Party - the party of Adolph Hitler. They complained that in Berlin more than half the houses and almost all the businesses were owned by foreigners. The German citizens supported this protest party, and it took political power and proceeded to pressure the foreign property owners to return the property - either sell it back or have it confiscated. This allowed the party of Hitler to control much of the property which had been accumulated by the carpetbagger/banker-agents and before that the Church and the king.

World War II

World War II was fought to reclaim the vast property holdings seized by Hitler's party from foreign carpetbagger/banker-agents, and the property which had belonged to king, nobles, and Church, all of which had originally belonged to the people.

Germany lost. As punishment she was permanently occupied and further dismembered. The occupied W. German part immediately gave up the land and property seized from the Hitler Party - not to the people - not to the church and king, but - to the surrogate bank owners who had bought it in the '20s banker-induced inflation.

In occupied E. Germany things were different. There, the Communist Party had seized their share of the same prize and had farmed it out to party functionaries to milk. They weren't about to share this juicy plum with anyone. Western rulers were tolerant of this communist eccentricity.

Communist greed and incompetence milked the economy of E. Germany more than it could take, and it collapsed. To salvage what remained, the Berlin Wall barrier was pulled down and the bankrupt Soviet-occupied E. German state was incorporated into the occupied W. Germany state to bring back to life.

"They Don't Make Any More Land!"

Land is the ultimate prize. Grasping rulers pass taxes to force small holders to sell to large holders.³

It is hoarded into monopolies, it is seized by kings and rulers, it is the prize of wars that kill millions and destroy cities and countries. Land is the ultimate possession that tyrannical kings and priests lust for.

The European land in E. Germany, seized by banker-surrogates during the 20s German inflation, seized from them by the Hitler Party, and later confiscated by the E. German Communist Party, is once again to change hands. It, too, is to be returned - not to the kings, church, and

3 "Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) ... Then are the children free." Math 17:25-26. Taxed property can never be owned, only rented. The ultimate owner of property can quickly be determined by seeing who takes control when one tax payment is missed.

merchants who owned it before WW I, and not to the people from whom the kings and church originally took it, but - SURPRISE - to the banker-surrogates who bought it for nothing during starvation period of the 1920s banker-caused inflation.

Another King Is Dead

The man placed in charge of the property transfer was Dr. Detlev Rohwedder, chairman of the board of Treuhandanstalt ("True Hand Bank" or "Honest Hand Bank") of Berlin.

Herr Dr. Rohwedder was gunned down at his mansion in Duesseldorf while engaged in "privatizing" this "public property" of the now defunct Communist Party of E. Germany. The establishment media once again blamed this on the Red Army Faction. However, the blame was not accompanied by shrill demands for control, banning, or crackdown on the activities of the Communist Party, or any other restrictions that one would expect to be directed against a group which constantly removes prominent usury bankers and other establishment figures from the German scene.⁴

A quarter page notice of the "assassination" appeared in the WSJ, April 8, 1991, C5, which is the page listing the NYSE stock prices. This is one page certain to be read by all who are interested in money. The notice stated:

"In memory of the deceased we ask you to forward any donations to the Stiftung Preussischer Kulturbesitz in Berlin.

4 Ezek 18:13

Special account for contributions - Acct. No. 9900 11 470, routing code 100 500 00, Landesbank Berlin."

This announcement ended with what could be interpreted as a "receipt of notice", an address where "donations" can be sent. This indicates that there might be more to the announcement than the announcement.

It appears that another contender has thrown his hat into the ring in the age-old fight to claim the lands of the peoples of the West. A contender who, like his opponent, plays hardball. One who is NOT a communist since communists NEVER kill their creators. One thoroughly democratic in choosing his targets without regard to race, creed, or color, only by what they have done.

The man who owns his own land is a king. Ruling his land Lawfully makes him a priest.⁵

TREASURY BILLS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I see where the government is going to buy high yielding Treasury Bills and replace them with lower yielding Treasury Bills. Does this save the government much money?" G. C. - D.C.

ED: When the government buys outstanding T-bills, the owner is paid in cash. Since yields are down, the owner is faced with what to do with this cash. Chances are that a large part will go into the economy rather than being re-invested into low paying T- bills. This is another way of giving the economy a shot in the arm.

5 "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father. Rev. 1:5-6

FREE MARKET: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What does it mean when the papers say that a 'free market' will be imposed on E. European countries." A. B. - Maryland

ED: Practically, it means that those who own the system will be permitted to do what they want to do. A "free market" and a "free enterprise system" are two different cats.

SOUTH AFRICA: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I read your War Cycles / Peace Cycles and am wondering what is the real reason for U.S. and Western Europe's support of African communism and hostility to South Africa?" J. B. - Idaho

ED: To force them into the arms of the International Trade Cartel (ITC). One bloc will have a near-monopoly on natural resources; the other a near-monopoly on technics.

The countries of the world are like a deck of cards - they are shuffled at will and dealt into any desired combination. The common thread of control is - "The borrower is slave." It's the Law. The Blacks are blamed - they only furnish the muscle. The Jews or Japs? - they only furnish the money or the troops. The USSR, Japan, U.S. or the Israeli country? - they are only "spurs" to make the horse jump the fence. WHAT then?

You already know. If there are only $10 in the world and they are lent under condition that $11 be repaid - it cannot be done. "The borrower is slave." Slaves obey. The Law is absolute. Find someone who lends $10 for $11, and you will be in the presence of a hired hand of the ruler of the world, a small time imitator who will soon be gobbled up, or the ruler himself. "By their acts...."

TEACHERS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I had a math teacher who complained that she was forced to teach math. A math teacher in the same school was forced to teach history. Are the administrators crazy?" P. N. - Tennessee

ED: It's hard to believe that it's not done on purpose. I talked to a creation of the public school system yesterday. He didn't know who Captain John Smith was, what a kamakazi was, a Shiite, or a Zionist. He was a junior in a religious college and didn't know what a Phineas Priest was either.

PHINEHAS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The word "Phinehas" in Strong's Concordance means "mouth of the serpent. Why?" H. R. - Oklahoma

ED: Abraham came from the Chaldees, the Chaldees came from the ancient Sumerians, along with the Babylonians, Hittites, Phoenicians, Indians, Greeks, and Egyptians. The ancient Sumerian translation of "serpent" means wisdom. Perhaps it means wisdom - good or bad - depending on context, similar to the usage of "stranger", which is either good or bad depending on context. The serpent raised on a pole in the desert healed the children of Israel - that's good. The serpent in the garden is bad. Wisdom is either good or bad depending on usage. God created a special priesthood for Phineas and blessed it for all generations. That's good.

INTERRACIAL MARRIAGE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I was reading the book of Jubilees and ran across the following which merely re-enforces other like scriptures:

"If there is any man in Israel who desires to give his daughter or his sister to ... the Gentiles, he shall surely die .. for Israel is holy to the lord ... And to this law there is no limit of days and no ceasing and no forgiveness ... And thou, Moses, command the children of Israel ... that they shall not give any of their daughters to the Gentiles and that they shall not take any of the daughters of the Gentiles; for ... it is disgraceful to Israel ... for it is unclean and accursed to Israel; ... for there will be plagues upon plagues, curse upon curse, and all punishment and plagues and curses will come .. and if they blind their eyes to those that commit uncleanness ... then shalt the whole people together be punished." Jubilees 30:6- 13

ED: Strangers bring plague. Plagues have almost destroyed entire nations. Non-venereal syphilis plague came from the Indians of Mexico, bubonic plague from the Orient, black plague from the Mideast. etc. Man, transgressing with "humans", brings God's curse. It's the Law.

FBI INFORMER: "Another potential witness who was not called in the original trial (of Byron de la Beckwith) is Delmar Dennis ... Dennis said in a book, published 16 years ago, that Beckwith told him he had shot Evers. ... Dennis was a Baptist minister." The New American, p. 29, April 9, 1991

ED: The parade of FBI witnesses at the Fort Smith Sedition Trials said so many contradictory things that the jury found it impossible to believe anything they said. At that trial another preacher-informer was said to have prepared the ground by remarks to a grand-jury against those he had first befriended. Sixteen years after de la Beckwith's first trial they brush off the tired old statements by another preacher-informer for a last ditch THIRD trial. The talk should be about double-jeopardy! Or better - about informers. Is it true that almost every FBI informer is an informer to keep from prison himself? Are informer's crimes reviewed by juries? If not - they certainly should be.

PATRIOT MISSILE: "(From) the Pentagon comes word that the Bush Administration is planning to sell the technology for the Patriot missile to the Soviet Union. This is the same Patriot missile that ... intercepted Iraqi Scud missiles aimed at targets in Israel and Saudi Arabia. ...such advanced technologies have for the past decade been restricted to friendly countries." THE NEW AMERICAN, p. 4, Apr 9, 1991.

ED: The red bear menace must be made believable to justify multi- billion dollar defense expenditures. A dissected Patriot will result in a new improved Scud which will require an updated multi-billion dollar Patriot which will require an up- dated ... etc. etc. etc. Smile! It's "the good life."

TOE SUCKER: "Authorities are preparing warrants for the arrest of a convicted toe sucker ...charged with three counts ...

"A woman who reported that a man who came to her house to buy firewood Saturday ... offered her $20 to suck her toes. The woman refused.

"A Cabot woman ... said she was working Wednesday ... when a man ... reached for her foot.

"The 3rd incident occurred Monday when a man asked a woman in Cabot ...at the Sonic Drive-In .. to let him suck her toes.

"(The man) pleaded guilty last fall to ... assault and harassment charges ... that stemmed from similar incidents last year. He was fined and put on probation." The Gazette, Feb 17, 1991

RAPE: The Kennedy clan has once more come to public attention. This time the cry of "rape" is leveled against one of its members. It appears that wherever that family is - disgraceful conduct is reported sooner or later. Those committing many of the acts attributed to the Kennedys are referred to as "white trash" in Virginia. Indeed, history may well refer to the Kennedy clan as the carbuncle on the face of America.

RULE BY PEERS: "The high court ruled in 1986 that when prosecutors disqualify potential jurors based on their race it violates the 14th Amendment's guarantee of equal protection." Miami Herald Apr 2, 1991⁶ American Westerners now have no recourse to their ancient Law. Oriental plant managers, bankers, and workers arrive daily to direct the activities of Americans. The courts, the government, and establishment churches who allow this put themselves in the position of fighting God.

AIDS: Albany, NY: "State health officials ... reverse(d) a regulation that made nursing homes tell funeral directors when a deceased resident had AIDS." NY Post, Apr. 5, 1991

"LIFE EXPECTANCY of blacks declined in 1988 for the 4th consecutive year, largely due to a sharp increase in murders and AIDS-related deaths." WSJ, Apr 9, 1991

SOUTH AFRICA

"GOVERNMENT'S about-face on Communism reveals what the 'new South Africa' is all about. Whereas Communism was always the enemy here, now it is Anti-Communism that is the enemy. ... S.A. Observer

"THE OUTLINES of De Klerk's 'new South Africa' have become more distinct ... In essence it is the substitution of Communist rule for Afrikaner rule." Ibid

"THE OLD S. Africa imploded ... the 'new S. Africa' (Azania) is (to be) ... under a black government controlled by the financial power-wielders. It will soon become plain that the (Black) African National Congress is a tool of the S.A. Communist Party, and that Joe Slovo, not Nelson Mandela, will dictate the terms of surrender to Mr. de Klerk." Ibid.

WHITE S. African school districts were given a choice of (A) separate schools, or (B) integrated schools. The S.A. media has talked of nothing but the glories of (B) type schools, but this is how the public has responded.

- Of 943 Transvaal schools, only 41 indicated they were interested in (B) schools. By Dec. 1990, only 18 could be persuaded to vote for (B) schools.
- Of 259 Natal schools - 20% voted (B). By Dec 1990 only 2 supported (B).
- Of 720 Cape schools - 16%. By Dec 1990 - only 5%.
- Of 2122 schools in all of S. Africa - only 6% supported integration. From S. A. Observer, Jan. 1991, P.O.Box 2401, Pretoria $13/yr.

ED: This is why the leftists don't dare allow freedom of choice in America, or even referendums. Every time it has been put to a referendum - class (B) integrated schools have been voted down.

AIDS: "The infection spreads at a rate affected by the mores of the community. ... Areas of such depopulation are large enough to have been observed from satellites. ... and a million HIV Positive cases have been predicted by the end of 1992. ... As a doubling of HIV Positive cases every 8-9 months is happening already ... Hospital services would then be overwhelmed in the following year or two. ... Voluntary ... helpers ... would be needed to swell the ranks ... depleted by exposure to AIDS. ... It might become advisable to enroll the HIV Positive community which will then be large and growing ...

"There would be a general and increasing reduction in labor supply. Government services, commerce, industry, agriculture and mining would all be curtailed within a year or two. ... This import could mean a relentless reduction in the population by several percentage points a year for several years to less than half of today's numbers. ...

"One ... effective cure ... to be hoped for ... is a change in the virus itself to a less virulent form. ... a first source of help is the clergy and others who fight sin professionally. ... The (Bible) is full of rules and remonstrances and dire examples of the subject of irresponsible sexual intercourse. ...

"... Never let the power of a force of good women when motivated by challenge like this one, be underestimated. ... The recently abandoned sex laws should be replaced by a much stronger social veto on and ostracism of irresponsible sexual behavior. Spread of infection between races is undesirable as racial barriers can be a useful bar to the spread of new virus strains ...

"The 'sexual liberation' proclaimed recently has been at a terrifying price. It is now time to swing to a puritanical moral outlook ... The wages of sin, are indeed Death ... The dreadful cry, 'Why were we not warned in time,' ... should be anticipated and quieted by urgent and full information and advice now." The Covenant Message

Chapter 201

43RD REUNION

Well, I was back - Fishburne Military School. The place I started doing all those things I had sworn that no one would ever make me do. Everything looked about the same. Gone was the ivy on the walls and the beat-up gray painted WWI machine guns overlooking the parade field. But that was about all. Grass now grew on the gravel strewn parade field that doubled as a football field. That was new. On our football team we were used to hitting the gravel, but other teams weren't. They didn't like being tackled on that field. They remembered Fishburne from the gravel scrapes and scars.

I went to the Foyer and paid my $35 registration fee. Killing time, I looked at the old shooting trophies. Back then, I shot on the 3rd rifle team. Only the 1st and 2nd teams had their names on the trophies, but I recognized the names.

Ten or eleven boys shot better than I could. You could hardly read the engraving through the dirt and grime. The 1940s Randolph Hearst shooting trophies looked so old. I could remember them shiny new.

I went over to a group of gray old men to ask a question - and one of them said - "Hoskins"! It was Murphy from North Carolina. He wasn't "old", he was one of us - one of the class of '47 - and he had a 30 year old wife! Then, one at a time the familiar old faces became young again - time dropped away. "Do you remember the time when"

It was 1944. There was a war on. I was 15. The army sent instructors. Battle hardened soldiers. Some had been wounded and their wounds were still open and bled sometimes. They treated us like recruits are treated the world over. We were ROTC and their job was to hammer us into shape before we went into combat. The casualty lists from graduated classes came in regularly. The war was very real to us.

Saturday morning inspection. Get up at midnight Friday, scrub the floor, wash the windows, inspect bedding and clothing for loose strings (called "ropes"), disassemble and thoroughly clean an already thoroughly clean rifle ("Hoskins, rifle serial number?" - "1238012 Sir!"),¹ make the bed, and get an hour's sleep on the floor to keep from wrinkling the bed before inspection ("Hoskins - what is general order #3?").

Marshall was my upperclassman. I had to shine his shoes, get his uniforms from the pressing club, and get cigarettes

1 I can't remember my social security number, or either my armed service enlisted or officer's serial number, but I remember that rifle number!

for him when he ordered me to. I liked working for Marshall. He looked out for his misters. He went into the army the next year and was killed.

In barracks we walked in a tight brace. Fingers touching the belt and elbows almost straight back (try it). We came to attention when addressed by an upperclassman and said "Sir". I was on the football team and also Marshall's "mister" so I wasn't bothered as much as the other misters. I was beaten only once. Tackus told me to find him three cigarettes. There were no cigarettes in school. I couldn't even find one. There was a war on and they were hard to get, so he beat me with a broom. It hurt. Tackus was killed and they never found his body. I saw a letter from Cave. He wouldn't come to the reunion. He said that his memories of FMS weren't fond. He said he had suffered all his adult life from a back injury caused by beatings at school. I remember Cave well.

Machine guns, rifles, pistols, mortars, we could take them down and put them together blindfolded. Everybody could. We could string communications wire, set up command posts, find the best field of fire for MGs. Set out a perimeter. This is what we were taught. It was all we knew. It was our life - like breathing.

We practiced squad tactics. Waynesboro had grown up around the school so we had to march a mile and a half to get to the open countryside. The marching and the singing - the clump, clump, clump of heels hitting the ground, the straight lines, eyes front ("Don't let anyone see you take your eyes away from the back of the man's head in front. They'll know you're a recruit.") - it was great. Often we didn't have time to march out to the country and back again. We had to practice on the gravel parade field to get in the hours required by the army. There was room for eight squads to practice combat squad maneuvers. One third of the field was passably soft, with only a cinder track on part of it if you were unlucky. One third included the gravel football field. The other third was mostly soft, but contained a depression that collected an inch or two of water when it was damp. Waynesboro in winter is always damp.

On command you hit the ground. Lying flat on your stomach you aimed your rifle at "the enemy" who were in the houses across the street. On command you commenced "rapid fire" - pull the bolt back, slam it forward - in one easy movement without taking the rifle from your shoulder or your eyes from the target. Sight, squeeze the trigger, "click", again, again, and again - until "cease fire!".

On command, your section would rise and rush forward. A section at a time. On command it hit the gravel - rifle butt first to break the fall - elbows next. It didn't hurt much. Everyone did it. If you were a tender sort, you taped your elbows. Most didn't bother. The depression was unpleasant only when it had standing water. It was especially unpleasant when the water had a skim of ice on it, and a breeze was blowing to chill you when you got wet. The eighth squad got wet. Every one took their turn. It was fair. There were no favorites or gold bricks. The instructors did their job. There was some belly-aching, but not much. Up! run! down! "splash". Up! run! down! "splash." This was what we did. It was what everyone did.

Class of '47 was taken on a tour of barracks. There were now locks on the doors. "Locks!" Can you imagine needing locks? We left money on tables or on the beds and it was never taken. We went in the rooms. They were nice and clean, but shiny hardwood floors had given way to linoleum.

There were TVs, and no Saturday morning inspection. There were no rifles. To get rifles now for parade boys had to go to the armory and draw rifles. There had been some shootings. Some cadets had sold them. Some other cadets had broken them.

The boys we saw were young, bright faced and polite - on their best behavior. They said their grades had gone way up since coming to school. I went to "my" room and talked to the cadets living there now. I asked where they were from and told them stories of the past. Their faces showed "disbelief," or puzzlement. They didn't understand. They couldn't relate. The school was our common denominator, but there was no "rat line", no "mister" system, no maneuvers, no casualty lists, no beatings. They could now walk outside the barracks in T-shirts. They had black cadets. That's new. The locks arrived with the blacks. It used to be that blacks went to their own military academies. One near Norfolk and one in central Virginia. I was told that most of these weren't Virginia blacks, they came from NY on scholarships. No one knew who gave the scholarships. They had been given a choice of integrating several Virginia schools and had chosen Fishburne. They got more promotions for their number than Whites did. The white cadets noticed this.

It was time for the big review. The alumni passed in review before the cadets, their families, and town visitors. Their review ended as they filed into the stands. There were over 200 alumni with the oldest a spry 97. In the assembly earlier he told us that we "youngsters" had had it easy. That things were "really tough" when he went there. I'll bet they were.

The band passed in review playing "Deutschland Uber Alles." That was new. Then they played the songs of the various services. Alumni that had served in that branch stood while they played. I stood twice. "AF" and "Airborne." The cadet corps then passed in review. They looked good.

That afternoon we were on our own. I drove out to the fields where we used to practice war. Subdivisions now covered them. The banks of the South River where I used to walk by myself on Sunday afternoons and dream of things I would do one day - where I would walk through the tall grass without seeing a soul, was now a park with milling children and families.

I drove to the houses where town families and their beautiful daughters had welcomed cadets so many years ago. The families had gone - vanished. No one knew anyone by that name. Fairfax Hall was a girls' school across town. It was there that I kissed my first girl. I was 16. I will remember THAT until I die. The school is now a corrections center - a prison.

I drove past the small community hospital. It was now a funeral home. I could see the window to the room where I spent more than six weeks - where I got the first penicillin given to anyone outside the armed forces in the state of Virginia.

It happened this way. I was shooting on the range. Something hit my elbow. Something light - like a paper clip. It didn't hurt. A ricochet. Later I discovered blood and a hole. Untreated, it developed into bloodstream infection ("Tough cadets don't go on sick call."). My arm grew bigger than my upper leg and they thought I was going to die. My father was a doctor and he got penicillin for me from a colleague at an army hospital. It saved my life. I was thrashing about out of my head and bent my arm. This caused the tight skin to split open and the wound drained. I immediately started to get better. I talked the pretty young nurse into a kiss. She was the second girl I ever kissed. It all took place right behind that window in what was the hospital.

I drove back. Near a motel was a familiar face. He invited me in. There were half a dozen from '46 and '47 there with their wives. We told old stories and remembered those who had passed on. It was fun. Someone pointed out a cadet weaving back and forth getting ready to walk out into a road. Other cadets ran over and took him in tow. That was new.

Then it was time to dress for dinner. I had driven over from Lynchburg just 65 miles away, so my room was my car. I left while they dressed and drove around a second time until supper.

At the banquet at the country club that night my old comrades and their wives sat together with their drinks. Their faces, wreathed in smiles, were taking on that red alcohol glow. I had taken my first drink of beer at Fishburne the day I reached 18 because I had promised I would not drink until I was 18. On April 28, 1965 I stopped trying to run my own life. I had made a bloody mess of it. I took my last drink in Washington D.C., 10:30 AM, January 1, 1966. It was a Sunday morning. There had been hell between those two dates.

The club served crab, shrimp, and pork. I used to like all of them until I learned that it's not smart to eat scavengers. I had been there long enough. I said my farewells and left early to drive home. Entering my own house I looked at my boys and said, "You boys have it too easy. Robert Byrd!

John Hundley! Put this blindfold on and field-strip this .45!" I think they did it faster than I used to do it, and I learned from professionals.

'47 was '47. '91 is '91. I always felt bad because I couldn't afford to send the boys to military school AND college, and educate the other 4 too, but they seem OK. The acorn doesn't fall far from the oak and it doesn't have to grow on a gravel parade field to grow strong. The promise is that the sun will rise tomorrow.

I think it might do just that.

GERMAN INFLATION: "Dear Dick: I can confirm your words about the German inflation of the 1920s. My mother just told me that my family lost a two-family house for the price of a few bricks." Hans Schmidt, GANPAC - California

INSURANCE FUND: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The news reported that many banks will be hurt by assessments to increase the deposit insurance fund. Why would banks hurt each other when the taxpayers can be made to pay? G. W. - Maryland

ED: Two reasons: (1) If the taxpayers pay - they might demand control. The one who pays the piper calls the tune. (2) Failed banks are often bot at 10¢ on the dollar by survivors. Today's giants got to be giants by gobbling up weak sisters in the bank bad- times of 1920-1940.

FINANCIAL COUP: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What do you consider the biggest financial coup of the last 20 years.?" J. Q. - Massachusetts

ED: Hands down it is the legal confiscation of building & loan assets by the international banks at 10¢ on the dollar with the taxpayer picking up the tab (tribute). Billions of dollars of IOUs owed locally are being transferred to international owners. In other words - title to these people is being handed from the local master to the international bankers since the Law states "the borrower is slave to the lender."

IRAQ BOMBING: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: There are few TV pictures of the civilian casualties caused by American carpet bombing of Baghdad and other Iraqi cities and towns. I have been told that the number of civilian casualties is 'humongous' with whole towns lying vacant. The reason given here is that Iraqi land is being cleared for the hundreds of thousands and millions of Israeli immigrants from the Soviet Union. They must live somewhere and the U.S. provided the space. The reason for the carpet bombing against civilians was to kill them and clear the land." J. A.
- Saudi Arabia

VIGILANTES: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I was incensed to receive a tape from a Rev. Dan Gayman which attacked your VC. He called it "un- christian" and went on at length to say in essence that we should obey man rather than God." J. C.
- Minnesota

ED: Thanks for the tape. The paragraph of his talk that refers to the book follows:

"I hold in my hand a book recently written, by Richard Kelly Hoskins, entitled Vigilantes of Christendom. This book contains a wealth of historical information, but the primary thesis of this book is unscriptural, because the author of this book would have you to believe that God sanctions, that God Almighty approves of those who circumvent, the, ah, chain-of- command, God's authority, and move forward to re-establish, and to re-, ah, to re-establish themselves in their own private authority to right the wrongs of history. We, as a covenant family of people, need to understand the importance of living under Godly authority."

Vigilantes Of Christendom is a history book. It appears that Rev. Dan Gayman has either not read the book, or if he has read it he completely misunderstands its contents. It in no way denies lawfully constituted authority. To deny lawful civil authority is unscriptural. The book simply tells the story of those who react to unlawful rulers, unlawful measures, and unlawful acts. Those who do this use as a role model the Biblical character of Phineas. Phineas is a historical fact. Those who emulate his acts are historical facts. I would be most interested to learn what quotes Rev. Dan Gayman finds objectionable so that I might address those specific points.

Gayman refers to the following:

"Be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates."
Tit 3:1²

This quote does not stand alone as Rev. Gayman would seem to imply. It is qualified by other Biblical quotes. Most Christians, including those mentioned in Vigilantes, quote and have quoted these scriptures and apply them to their

2 (1) "Obey in all things your masters ... And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as to the Lord." Col 3:22,23, (2) "If any man obey not our word ... note that man and have no company with him." II Thes 3:14 everyday life. When these scriptures are used to uphold the Law - all is well; if used to uphold evil - there is certain to be conflict with God and His servants. Conflicts between God and man are resolved by the following:

"We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29³

It is a matter of historical record that Moses first appealed to man, and after his appeals were rejected - still refused to obey unlawful commands of authorities to do evil. Joseph refused to submit to the advances of his master's evil wife. Susanna refused to submit to the lustful but legal priests. The Maccabees refused to submit to unlawful authority and quietly returned home. John Knox and Martin Luther refused to obey the Pope to close and seal the Bible. The South refused to endlessly submit to the reconstruction rape of their land by Negroes and carpetbaggers when ordered by the federal government to do so. Phineas obeyed God and was rewarded. Robin Hood resisted. Jesse James, after being shot down once while obeying the authorities' order to surrender, refused the second time. Capt. John Smith refused to obey the king and his priests and condemn Virginia to destruction and death. Bacon refused to obey the corrupt governor of the king to permit the Indians to murder with impunity. The Boers refused to disarm on command of the King's governor before facing 30,000 Zulu warriors.

3 (1) "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15, (2) "We know him, if we keep his commandments." 1 Jno 2:3, (3) "Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." Eccles. 3:1, (4) "Not everyone shall enter into the kingdom of heaven but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Math 7:21

Christians everywhere believe that civil "authority" that supports and enforces God's Law must be obeyed. But, if authority does evil, if it orders one to disobey God's Word, to murder, torture, abuse, starve, or do other un-Lawful acts, and, misquotes scripture as its authority to order them, one knows the answer of the Christian zealot.

There ARE things Christians will NOT do - not even if commanded to do them by evil authority.

There are many who believe that God allows tyrants to oppress the faithful - to make them choose.⁴ They believe that this is why they are pushed and crowded. This is why they are humbled and humiliated. Biblical History says that at some point they will stand and choose whose curse they fear most. They also believe that the day they stand - tyranny over man will be through.

History tells of men in the past have given their lives rather than to disobey the Word. Future history will undoubtedly write of other men who will do the same. Some of them will walk abortion picket lines and be horribly beaten and brutalized. Others will protest in other ways. It is certain that in their hearts they believe:

4 "I created man from the invisible and visible ... I appointed him ruler ... to have my wisdom ... I called his name Adam and showed him the two ways ... and I told him 'this is good, and that is bad' that I should learn whether he had love toward me, or hatred, that it be clear which in his race love me." Enoch 30:12-14

"We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29

Many people believe that the faithful will be pushed until they are forced to choose according to their fears, and their reward will be according to their choice.⁶

Once again, if forced to choose sides in a conflict between God and man - there are certain to be those who choose:

"We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29

Christians can hopefully obey both, but, if forced to choose between the two - to "obey" God or to obey man - if that is all the choice that one has, one can with reasonable certainty say that there are men who will choose to obey the commands of God as outlined in his scriptures.

As a minister Dan Gayman should know know this
There is nothing complicated about it.

The fate of the two super-powers USA and USSR is intertwined to such an extent that the destruction of one would soon be followed by the destruction of the other ... it makes sense that the U.S. should try everything to keep the Soviet empire together, and this explains the weak American reaction after the Soviet assault in Vilnius." PETER COOK, expert on the Federal Reserve, states: "The breakup of Eastern Europe into countless separate political subdivisions will change little as long as they keep their present banking system. Chapter 202

BANK OWNERSHIP

The cry has been heard in the land that economics is too complicated to be understood.

Sorry, that cop-out won't hold water any longer. The story that follows is simple. Your life depends on your understanding it. Understand so you can tell others. Nothing is going to be done about it until people know - know what is being done to them.

A recent report filed with the SEC, Apr 22, 1991, reveals that the Saudis now hold over 5% of Chase Manhattan Bank. This is the second largest Saudi investment made since the war. The largest was a $590 million "investment" in Citibank.

This very probably gives effective control of these two banks to that group. There are constantly stories in the Wall Street Journal of other banks being bought by foreigners.

Control

There is something most Americans don't know. For tax reasons, most of the stock in American corporations is held in trust at banks. When the stock is put in trust at a bank, the bank registers this stock in a "phony name", or "nominee" name so that they won't have to fool with thousands of certificates. It's almost never the name of the bank. A single bank may have several "nominee names." It's legal.

Individual stock owners receive their dividends and stock splits, but the stock, since it is in "nominee name" is voted by the bank. This means that the nation's banks, by voting stock belonging to others, held in trust accounts, control most of the corporations of America. This is important!

RESULTS - Political

Banks, by putting stock held in trust accounts into nominee names and voting that stock as they like, elect the directors of many of America's corporations. These bank-elected directors of America's corporations vote to give money to politicians. These contributions elect politicians who favor the banks that elected them.

TV, radio, and newspapers are owned by corporations. These corporate shares are also held in trust at banks. Banks vote media stock - the TV, newspaper, and radio - and elect their boards of directors. These bank-elected boards of directors tell the media what policy to follow, what candidates to support, and in effect, they own the politicians of America who are absolutely dependent on media good will. If they are good - they get good exposure. If they are bad - they get bad exposure or blackout. In this case they will not be re-elected or receive money from corporations for campaign expenses.

Since foreigners own so many banks in America it is difficult to know exactly which foreign nation controls which media which controls the politician in that area. One might be controlled by the Saudis, another by Mexicans, another by the Israelis, and others by the Japanese. Naturally, since people vote their paychecks, these foreign-controlled politicians will tend to vote foreign interests rather than the interests of American citizens.

Banks today absolutely control the Presidency, Senate, Congress, and most state houses. The Supreme Court is their creation and votes their desires.¹ The banks - through voting stock held in their trust, absolutely control the government of America, most large corporations of America, and through the control of the media they also control the thoughts, economic well-being, and persons of the people of America. An undetermined number of those banks are in the hands of foreigners who in many cases have been given cause to hate America.

RESULTS - Economic

Roman lenders lent money to Roman farmers - and ended up owning their land. It was remarked by a traveler that one could travel for days over the Roman countryside without seeing a single person engaged in useful occupation. The foreclosed farms were resold to debt-free foreigners, who were in turn foreclosed. Roman farmers were forced to join the childless mob in the city and go on the dole. The entire Roman peninsular ended up being owned by 12 families, then at the last, two.

A fight between the last two lenders split the empire into East and West. Roman cities were huge. The cities stockpiled workers from a countryside that had become vacant and non-productive. By the time of Christ, Roman cemetery markers reveal that most of those who had been living in Rome were Greeks and Egyptians. The Romans of Rome had disappeared.

1 The formula calls for two steps forward and one step back. The step back encourages a do- nothing "wait and see" attitude, because "things are better than they were." The "one step back" is planned that way. It doesn't last.

The Greek Solution

Roman usurers lent money to Greek cities, corporations, and individuals. Payment had to be forthcoming or the debtor was enslaved. Greek cities defaulted and entire populations ended their lives as slaves in Rome. Greeks had no way to pay Roman usurers.

To avoid having unproductive vacant cities, the Roman solution was to close the banker-foreclosed and banker-owned shipyards in Rome and move the operation to Greece to provide Greeks with a source of income so that they could pay their debts. The skilled but now unemployed Roman shipbuilders and managers took jobs at local McRomanburger outlets or went on the Roman dole.

Egyptian rulers also in debt to the international bankers had no money to pay. Egypt's product was grain. A deal was worked out. The Egyptian rulers bought all the grain produced by the Egyptian farmers and paid them in Egyptian "IOUs". The Egyptian rulers then sold the grain to Roman grain brokers (also owned by the Roman bankers) at 80% of the going Roman grain price in exchange for hard money that could be applied against their debts. Roman farmers were good - but they couldn't beat 20% discounts. Soon Rome imported 51% of her food, and at the end - 100%. The Roman farmer was manipulated off his land.

Egyptian grain sales gave Egypt money to pay on their debts to the Roman bankers which kept the Egyptian farms operating. Roman farms shut down. Greek ship sales gave Greeks an income to service their debts to the Roman bankers and kept the Greek cities occupied. Roman shipyards shut down. Roman citizens, heavily in debt, were gradually reduced to slaves. Their birth rate plummeted. In time they vanished. When Rome had been drained dry and collapsed, the bankers merely switched base to Constantinople and continued plying their trade with the few survivors and new customers in Europe.

American industry is being shut down and moved abroad. The effect is to give an income to foreign lands to keep bank loans to those nations producing. The rest of the story should develop as it has before.

Easy Money Abroad

For many years the international banks have given preference to low interest loans to the Orient at Western expense. High money rates have slowed the growth of European economies, and low rates speeded growth in the Orient. Europe's industry has shriveled. Oriental industry has boomed. As the West declines to 3rd world status - the 3rd world nations move to the front ranks. It's bank policy.

Inventions

Most inventions, "tomorrow's success", are made in the West. Most Western-made inventions are given by foreign controlled American corporations to their kinsmen in the East to exploit. American secrets that ensure tomorrow's successes are in the hands of the East. It is "their" tomorrows that will be successful. The West slips further and further behind.

IBM, one of the few corporations still believed to be controlled by Westerners, makes their new computer chips in such a manner so that they cannot be used in any other machines. This appears to be their stop-gap solution - a solution for as long as it lasts.

Defense

America has long wondered why the Communist nations of the world have bomb shelters and stockpiled food to defend against atomic attack - while they have none. It is time to stop wondering. Foreigners who control America simply don't approve of Americans having bomb shelters and stockpiled food. You can see why. That's it!

Now you understand why America has forced busing, amnesty for criminals, filth and corruption in politics and media, and unlimited immigration, while surveys constantly reveal that American citizens are opposed to these things. America's rulers are accustomed to filth and corruption. It's a way of life with them. Since they rule, they don't care what Americans want. THEY control things. To them Americans go with the turf and what they want isn't important. They control the turf.

The thing to wonder about is this - what is America going to do about it?

Knowledge

Everyone can see that America's pie is growing smaller and smaller as its factories and industry are being closed down and shipped abroad.

In time, people will be fighting each other to keep a share of what is left of their shrinking slice. There is no way to stop this coming conflict except reform, and, who really believes that the Saudis, the Japanese, or any of the foreigners who control America's banks and industry will "reform" if the "reform" will deprive their own people.

As the slice grows smaller and smaller, Americans of all shades and hues will become desperate, and will tend to turn on other groups to fight for their share. If they do as they have done in the past, they will turn on anyone they believe has helped bring misery on them - the local banker, the media sleeze, and the corrupt politician. Unfortunately for their tomorrows - they are both visible and available.

They have to worry about themselves. Your job is to tell Americans what is happening, and how it happened. Tell them that their toleration - their toleration of evil - has caused ruin to descend on their land. And in the telling - tell them this:

"It shall come to pass ... the blessing and the curse ... and thou shalt call them to mind ... and shalt ... obey his voice ... then the Lord thy God will turn thy captivity (into freedom)." Deut 30:1-3

The solution is really quite simple. It's been known for 5000 years. It's attracting the attention of the people that has been the hard part. But, not to worry, someone else is attracting their attention right now. Soon, they'll listen.

MEDIA ATTACK ON "VIGILANTES"

I learned a few weeks ago that Delmar Dennis, star witness and accuser of Byron de la Beckwith, collaborated with the establishment media in a series of articles. Interestingly, these articles are being released just before his book is due to be released. Remember reading in VC how the establishment promoted The Prostrate State? A book properly promoted does well. My book VC and HR Newsletter were mentioned frequently although the Knoxville Journal made no effort to contact me to verify what was being said, and judging from the stories, no one had apparently ever read them.

Following is a copy of my letter to the Knoxville Journal.

Editor, Knoxville Journal. Knoxville, Tennessee

Delmar Dennis, the reluctant witness who has now stepped forward to claim that Byron de la Beckwith shot Medgar Evers, now claims the "Phineas priesthood" is after him.

He might as well have said that the "Spirit of Christmas" or the "Brotherhood of Man" is after him. It would have made as much sense. The "Phineas priesthood" is an euphanism for the "spirit of law enforcement," or a lawful Christian society. A good cop is a Phineas priest. So is someone who turns in a drug dealer or stops a mugger from beating up on a little old lady. These people don't belong to an "ultra-violent splinter group" as Dennis alleges. That's ignorant. The Phineas priesthood was established by God as a "spiritual priesthood." It's straight from the Bible. There has never been an organization of flesh and blood named "The Phineas Priesthood" and I doubt if there ever will be.

Dennis makes other claims that are not so funny. One news release says that Dennis says he won't testify. The next release reports Dennis as saying that he knew he would have to testify while he was saying that he wasn't going to testify.

Another release says that Dennis claims that Beckwith said that he (Beckwith) shot Evers. The next says that Dennis now denies it, and claims instead that Beckwith said something else. According to your paper "Dennis said he never heard Beckwith say 'I killed Medgar Evers,' but he did hear him say 'killing that n_____ gave me no more inner discomfort than our wives endure when they give birth to our children. We ask them to do that much for us. We should do just as much.'" What did Dennis say Beckwith said? Did Beckwith say he had stomach trouble? Or did he say that having a baby causes no "discomfort"? Is a man to be tried for his life on this kind of testimony? Your paper reported Beckwith's wife as saying that Dennis is a liar. Wonder why she would say such a thing?

Now, after making these dubious claims and getting free publicity, your newspaper now reports that Dennis has now gone to Mississippi to sell his $14.98 book. If your articles are true, it appears that Dennis changes his story whenever it suits. Testimony from such a person would seem to be a bit shaky. However, it is good enough thus far to jail a 70 year old man, sell books and newspapers, and help to get politicians elected. Won't it be interesting if Dennis repeats these different stories, all of them, under oath?

I know a little something about the revival of the spirit of law enforcement. I spent 5 years writing a book on the subject called Vigilantes of Christendom, "A history of the Phineas priesthood", Virginia Publishing Company, P.O. Box 997, Lynchburg, Virginia 24505, 424 p., $18/copy. It costs a bit more than Dennis' book, but you generally get what you pay for. Read your Bible on the subject, or read my book, and I believe you'll learn something of the history of America's swing to law and order.

Thank you for allowing me to correct a few of the items in your Dennis series.

Sincerely, Richard Kelly Hoskins

NOTE: Not one of the many letters I sent to Southern newspapers that ran the Delmar stories printed the above letter or a correction. This is how the media rules the minds of the nation.

INTEREST RATES: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Why are interest rates kept so much higher in South America, Australia, Britain, and Italy than elsewhere?" G. M. - Minnesota

ED: It is establishment management of their possessions. "Low- interest" money is available in nations selected to be "hi-tech". "High interest" is charged nations selected to be commodity producers or labor suppliers. The money monopoly rules the rulers of the world. "The borrower is slave."

LAW: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Be wary of the minister who proclaims that God's Law is done away and that anyone can do as he likes. This excuses homosexual acts and all sorts of Law violations. He may have a personal interest in having such acts excused." Rev. H. R. - Virginia

RELOAD: "Dear Richard: I belong to a 'black powder' shooting club. In Vigilantes Of Christendom I read where Lew Wetzel reloaded his musket-rifle on the run. I have been practicing for a year and am now up to a trot while re-loading. It can be done, but let me tell you it is HARD! Lew Wetzel was a real man to be able to out-run Indians and reload at the same time!" A. J. - Kansas

VIGILANTE: "Dear Richard: Just what does the word 'vigilante' mean?" C. M. - DC

ED: According to the dictionary: Vigilance: "The state of being vigilant ... Vigilant, watchful, characterized by vigilance. Especially alert to danger. Vigilante: one who serves on a vigilance committee." A neighborhood watch or a family member who is alert to take care of the rest is a vigilante.

BOOKS BLACKOUT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Your books reveal too much. I think they will be censored in some way." L. N. - Montana

ED: Possibly, but I think not, that is, unless there is a general censorship law passed as has been done in the USSR, China, Canada, Germany, Britain, and Scandinavia. Before I wrote WC/PC and VC, establishment reactions were considered. The John Birch Society used to be media-whipped daily. Membership boomed. Tactics changed. It was blacked out - not mentioned. Membership withered. "Blackout" is more effective. VC, ONR, & WC/PC - all are completely blacked out.

The present favored establishment method used to censor people and publications is called "Monkey Business".

Using "monkey business" Edgar Rice Burroughs could be sued for writing Tarzan of the Apes. It works this way. A coached drunk can be blackmailed by threat of court-inflicted punishment, or rewarded if he will cooperate and testify that he got the idea to wrestle a gorilla (which pulverized him) from reading Tarzan Of The Apes. In the same way Bambi's author can be sued by a reader who can be persuaded to testify that he nailed a hunter as a result of reading the book. Ministers are sued today for quoting the Bible and causing damages that run into the millions. Atheists sue Christians, Catholics can sue Protestants, Mohammedans can sue Jews. There's no end to it. Just because of what their gods teach. It brings everything into absolute chaos - but clever.

From this there is no protection - no "safe" place. Fear of "monkey business" can immobilize one - which is why it is used. However, if it fails to suppress the author or publication it will increase sales. It's a chancy two-edged sword. Frankly, you can't sweat everything. Man threatens, and then does his worst. God tells you what he's going to do and then DOES IT. His worse is much worse than man's worse. "It is better to obey God than man." Choose sides and stay there.

REPLACEMENT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: When you retire will there be someone that can give investment suggestions? I have a feeling that you are one of a kind." K. M. - Missouri

ED: Thanks for the compliment. Things change. Abolish usury and monopoly and I won't have a job - like needing a horse and buggy today. Christians everywhere are now studying. A new generation is being born. The day of change will come.

Chapter 203

THE KLAN

The first part of the following was taken from Vigilantes Of Christendom and read at the Populist Party meeting in Ashville, North Carolina on July 13, 1991. It is felt that a reminder to others may be in order.

There is so much misinformation written about the Klan that a few words should be devoted to its short history.

The Klan was organized in Tennessee. For a brief time it succeeded in maintaining the peace and was rapidly copied in the rest of the South. The leadership of this police organization was offered to General Lee. His health would not permit the effort, and so he recommended General Forrest.

The new leader was a straitlaced man. "Forrest neither drank nor swore."¹ He was known to have dismissed an officer for immorality. On Sundays, his tent would be converted into a church. Morally, he was superior.

The official story is this: On Christmas Eve, 1865, six penniless veterans met in a law office in Pulaski, Tennessee. They planned a costume party. Ghosts were to be the central theme. On the way to the party, as a lark, they went out and frightened some Blacks who had been causing trouble. They succeeded beyond anyone's hopes. The idea caught on. In 1867, the Ku Klux² Klan was officially organized. Villainies committed by Blacks and unsupervised soldiers were dealt with by men in Klan regalia. This resulted in a sudden cessation of depredations. Cowered Blacks and cautious soldiers on private looting expeditions suddenly started looking over their shoulders.

The Klan also attracted the notice of the media. It was just what they were looking for. This media attention began a new chapter in Klan activity within months of its inception.

The Media Uses The Klan

The media had been in a quandary. Their instructions had been to keep the pressure on the South. This was hard to do. The villainous armies of the South were no more. They were unable to picture the kind, gentle General Lee as a ruthless Simon Legree, whip in hand; he was now a worn-out old man, a college president in Lexington, Virginia. It was not believable to picture President Jefferson Davis plotting to poison entire Northern communities; he was a closely guarded sick scarecrow of his former self, imprisoned in a cold damp hole in the side of an earthen bank at Fortress Monroe. His guards had been told not to be gentle. They weren't. The less said the better.

1 The Tragic Era, Claude G. Bowers, Houghton Mifflin Co., Cambridge, Mass., 1929. p. 310

Any of these stories that leaked from the South elicited sympathy, not the needed abuse. For these reasons, the emergence of the Klan was a godsend. For the first time the media had a whipping boy, someone to blame for all the troubles, a group that everyone could hate so that there would be a reason to continue to keep Federal troops in the South, troops who would keep the Republican Blacks in office.

"The North, reading its family paper, was told that there was no justice for loyalists in South Carolina."³

The Klan became front page material. The theme hammered home was "Southerners expound the law of hate." Within weeks of its emergence, it became a Southern phenomenon. Every Negro Saturday night razor fight, every crime, every domestic disturbance was blamed on the Klan.

When there was no crime, the Loyal League sent their own members out in Klan regalia to commit atrocities to be blamed on the Klan. These well-publicized outrages were used as a pretext to organize Negro militias to protect the Blacks and carpetbaggers and push the Whites around. They were also used to produce national anti-Klan laws that were used against everyone in the nation who had something bad to say about Republicans.

General Forrest was presented with a dilemma. He was trying to use the Klan as a Southern police force. But, there was no way at all to respond to the vicious flood of false charges. The South possessed absolutely no friends who could or would take a stand in her defense.

The few dozen Klan successes did not compensate for bad press in the North from the resulting media-smear. Klan-bashing was an ideal way to further persecute the conquered people of the South.

Forrest had no choice. He was apparently beaten. He disbanded the Klan within months of its organization sometime in 1869, ordered all records destroyed, forbade meetings or activity in the name of the Klan, and forbade former members from disclosing any information of Klan activities.

A police force to protect the Southern Whites was still needed as never before. Since a public one was not provided, a private one had to function. It did, but not in the name of the Klan. The South organized, but in no-name organizations. There was no official organization, no records, no membership, and certainly no open membership. Everyone helped in some way. Men patrolled the streets and roads at night. Crime dropped. But, the peace did not last. Violence erupted. Newspaper headlines screamed, "The Klan strikes again!"

The Klan was indeed active. But it was a new Klan, a Klan with an entirely new membership. Its members were radicals, impersonating Klansmen, who worked in close cooperation with the media to furnish atrocity stories. This was a giant step forward in news management.

This outbreak of Klan activity took place in several places throughout the South at once - all minutely covered by the media.

The no-name organizations were from that time at war with this fraudulent Klan, an establishment organization winked at by the occupation officials. Its membership consisted of carpetbaggers, military personnel, and the outlaw element who donned sheets to commit their midnight robbery. Many were the unreported nighttime gun battles between the no-names and the radical nightriders. There were no bodies found, and almost no arrests. Many were the marauders who were uncovered and quietly disappeared. Many were the honest housekeepers as well as the slimy turncoat who just vanished. All records of them just stop. Every Southern family has a family member during that period who just disappeared - usually quietly into a family cemetery at night. There were no newspaper reports of those incidents. The Southerners couldn't report them without retaliation, and the establishment certainly wouldn't. The no-name victories in these midnight affairs were not reported. There were no survivors to report them. Nothing. Just silence.

The bogus Klan was the media's best excuse for a whipping boy. It made many things possible. Anti-Klan laws were enacted in 1871-72, three years after the real Klan had been disbanded. Atrocities by the bogus Klan continued to be reported with gusto. They were reported even when there was nothing to report. Truth was no barrier to good reporting. There was a lot of money riding on continued occupation of the South.

North Carolina Populist Party Meeting

I was invited to speak at a Populist Party Meeting in Ashville, North Carolina. I have spoken to several Populist Party meetings before. They are good people.

On arriving, I had to pass by a half dozen "skin-heads" stationed at each entrance. These were boys in black t-shirts, black pants, and paratroop boots - and seemed to be between the ages 17-22. They were clean shaven, and very polite. I knew the grandfathers of some. They were stationed there because threats had been made on the radio call-in talk show to the effect that the Populist Party meeting would be broken up. The skins "weren't going to allow a bunch of communists to break up this meeting!" The communists have done it before in North Carolina.

Inside there were hundreds of ordinary Mr. & Mrs. America come to see what the new political party was all about. Constantly circulating were about 20 men wearing t-shirts with KKK or American Nazi Party emblazoned on them. Inside there were numerous Ashville police. They were also nice and polite. There was someone outside with a computer going around taking down the license numbers of attendees. Nice atmosphere. KKK, Nazis, skin-heads, Populist Party, police - . It was so good it looked media-staged.

1869 All Over Again

Was this 1869 all over again or was this 1991? Does the media have a history of using the KKK and the Nazi Party as media-meat or don't they?

Could it be that some "true conservative" hasn't gotten the message? Or, maybe there is somebody who knows what he is doing. It is a fact. In spite of all the South's experience with such things - it appeared to be done to us once again in North Carolina. There was enough "media-meat" present to present a big target to shoot at, and they did. Once again the media had a field day. You could have taken the media commentary of 1870 and used it in 1991 and would not have been able to tell the difference.

No doubt the people in the Ashville area will from now on label the rapidly growing Populist Party in that area as "the party of skinheads, Klan, and Nazis." If this was the intent - it succeeded. If the Populist Party is killed - little opposition to local liberal politicians ramming through more anti-gun, anti- militia, pro-immigration, pro- communist legislation can be undertaken. Could this have been the intent?

The communist party in their rise to power in America, didn't do this sort of thing. They never got out in the streets to give conservatives a target to be abused. They didn't walk around in t-shirts broadcasting that they were "Communist Party USA". They never held news-covered rallies and waved communist flags. At least, they didn't in Virginia. They would have been stomped! In Richmond they listed their name in the phone book one time and received so much abuse that they never did it again. They dropped out of sight, disappeared. Communist party members met privately, joined black civil rights groups, and used them as their vehicle to power. They succeeded beyond their wildest dreams.

What worked for the Communists should work for the KKK and Nazi party. Meet privately and using a low profile work through other organizations like the neighborhood watch, local political party, or PTA. Go with what's going!

If, instead, what is really desired is to raise up a media target and give them a chance to blast the very projects the KKK and Nazi Party say they are for - they are going about it the right way.

Past news articles and court trial transcripts disclose that the FBI has used the KKK many times in the past. FBI paid agents- provocateur have actually led the KKK into violence. The "KKK" or "Nazi" groups in many areas may be nothing more than FBI fronts. The FBI is nothing less than the muscle arm of the current political party in power in Washington. Their paymasters pay them to get what they want, and they are good at getting it. They ought to - they've been at it a long time. In my experience, government agencies will use anyone to advance the political objectives of the ruling powers in Washington. Advertised as non- political - the FBI, the IRS, and the like - are the ultimate political enforcers in America.

In my opinion, the Populist Party in the Ashville area has had a number played on them. For all effective practical political action - it is now dead. It requires a new image if it hopes to be effective in the future.

Think on it. What better way to defeat a project than to have the KKK and the Nazi Party be a visible part of it. We live in a world of political reality. Just as in the 1870s, FBI-encouraged KKK violence has resulted in anti- militia laws and anti-gun laws, and anti-White quota laws. Some help.

For your own personal effectiveness, it may be wise to assume that KKK and Nazi Party visibility is provided with the full knowledge and encouragement of DC, and is used as a whip to in some way manipulate the votes of the American people. There is no way their visibility can outweigh the media damage they cause. It is counter- productive. "There is nothing new under the sun, it has all been said or done before."

HYBRID Wheat

Last fall, I threw an outdated 7 year old barrel of wheat into my old quarter-acre garden. It took root and grew into a healthy stand of wheat.

Tall, healthy, YET, in that whole field of hybrid wheat there was not one single stalk of wheat grain.

Hybrid wheat does not reproduce. America's farmers grow hybrid wheat. They obtain the seed from three or four major seed companies. If anything happens to transport, money, or those seed companies - America will starve! It's good to keep looking over your shoulder. We have fools and knaves governing us.

MODERN ART

"The attack on contemporary art mounted by Jesse Helms ... and others is inescapably similar to that of the national socialists (Nazis). There is the same ... respect for women, religious symbols, national dignity and the values of an idealized home and family. There is the same preoccupation with 'pornography' and the same demand for beauty and an art 'the people can understand.'"

ED: After the family reunion last Sunday, I took family members "teens-twenties" to Richmond's Virginia Museum. Entering, one at a time, the Dutch, French, Russian, and German rooms, I asked the children to be quiet, stand in the middle of the room, and point to the pictures they liked. Without fail they picked the masters. We then went to the modern art section. There was a crowd with a tour guide in front of a ten foot black painting that had a single white line running from left to right. The guide went on and on describing that white line and telling about how wonderful the picture was. I deplore rudeness, but I couldn't help a secret satisfaction as I tried to suppress the uncontrollable laughter of the family children. Later, I explained to them that there are certain people who are different from them, types who like garbage, and they have every right to like it. Garbage dressed up in diamonds and gold is still garbage. It reflects and expresses their inner soul. It is important to realize that these people aren't joking, they really like it. It's really - THEM!

I was wasting my breath. They already knew. And they were eager to get on to the Egyptian and Babylonian sections that they hadn't seen yet.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: What happens when there is a lot of debt?" R. C. - DC

ED: Business stops. A large debt in time siphons off the floating supply of money in the form of interest before it can be used for other purposes. Debt and interest payments are not useful uses of money. This is why in Christian nations all debt (except to strangers)⁴ is forgiven every 7 years and charging interest is punishable by death. It prevents cycles of war and misery.

"Dear Dick: Why doesn't social security run out of money?" A. M. - Illinois

ED: The money you pay into social security is treated as government income and spent. There is no money in the Social Security fund. Money is borrowed into existence from the Federal Reserve banks as needed and paid to the recipients. The government can borrow a trillion or ten trillion as easily as ten dollars. Again: there is NO fund containing social security money.

Q.1: I thought Phineas priests were literal, biological descendants of Phineas."

A.1: Perhaps. Phineas is always held up as THE example to follow - in diplomacy, as general of the armies, or wherever. He is presented as the model to follow to protect his people from the destructive results of violations of the Word, statutes, and judgments. Others followed his example. It would seem that it is an open-ended priesthood.

Q.2: In Numbers 25 Phineas had God's blessing and approval. How does that relate to Abraham, Moses, and the mixed marriages going on at the time of Ezra?

A.2: God's grace and forgiveness. God told Abraham to put away his strange wives and children - and he did. God blessed the act. Moses had strange wives. In the Ethiopian case he never consummated the marriage. In the Mideonite case he put them away. God blessed the act. In the case of Ezra - the children of Israel put the strange wives away. Those with mixed-breed children put them away too, and they were then welcomed back into the family. Grace follows repentance and restitution. If restitution is not or cannot be made - an un- Lawful act is punished by death. No restitution can compensate for murder - the victim is dead. Therefore, punishment is death. A thief restores two- or four- fold - depending. If he doesn't have the items, he works it off. If he "runs" - refuses to make restitution - he dies.

Q.3: What is the best Bible?

A.3: I don't know. Just like most HR readers, I have a dozen or more around the house. The Bible is a collection of books selected by man. It is the WORD in the Bible that is inspired. I have often heard that the book itself is inspired. I try to stay out of it. The question I've always wondered about is; who "inspired" these same men who compiled the Bible to leave out so many books that Jesus quoted from so extensively which also contain the Word? The Word never changes and is everywhere. If all books containing the Word were collected in one place, I'll bet it would create a mountain - too many for a single volume. I'm into the Geneva Bible now. I like the surprisingly illuminating, and sometimes simple, margin comments from the 16th century. The reformers opened the door and showed us the road - and we let the door close. But, in our struggle to open it again, we too have learned interesting things - as we are supposed to. I like the KJ Bible - knowing that it is gutted. I even like the hated Scofield Bible - knowing that it has bones that must be spit out. But, it has interesting meat, too.

Q.4: Should we eat Kosher meats?

A.4: You don't eat scavengers because of what a scavenger eats. Also, a scavenger does not have the same kind of flesh as clean meat. I don't know what scavenger's flesh does to a man's body - but it couldn't be good. I have heard that pork doesn't hurt Blacks, and that blood doesn't hurt certain Eastern European peoples. I know that the digestive systems of different peoples are different. I've seen Blacks drink milk and eat cheese and get sick. There is much I don't know. I am told that modern slaughterhouses stun animals with sledgehammers and then immediately butcher them. This is supposed to drain most of the blood quickly, and is better than the Jewish Kosher method of draining blood while the animal is fully conscious - which is said to cause trauma in the animal.

Watching what someone eats often tells of that person's level of education and commitment. A plate of eggs and swine for breakfast can tell a lot. It used to be that people would die over what someone tried to force them to eat. See II Macabees 7:1-41, or, Vigilantes of Christendom, p. 447.⁵

Chapter 204

GOD IS DEAD

The electronic preachers of the West have given away their God.

They have done this in exchange for the riches that come with media exposure. Critics describe this giveaway as - "God is Dead." This is the argument:

The Word says:

"He showed his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them." Ps 147:19-20

The Word also says:

"In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1 and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14

Thus, the Word was God, and it was shown to Israel - ONLY.

Judeo-Christian¹ preachers receive the wealth that accrues to national media exposure in exchange for saying that the owners of the networks - the people who do not have the three proofs of Israel - are in fact Israel. This, in spite of the fact that only true Israel can show the three proofs of Israel: 1- Christ's name. 2- Isaac's name. 3- Adamic descent.

"They shall put my name upon the children of Israel." Num 6:27 - "Christian",

(2) "In Isaac shall thy name be called." Romans 9:7., Sons-of-Isaac, Isaac-sons, "Saxons",

(3) The Hebrew word for "man" is "Adam". It means to "blush red. "Show blood in the face." Strong's Concordance.

Scripturally, to be an Israelite one must bear not one, not two, but all three identifying marks - "Saxon-Christian-man." Those who don't - aren't. (ALL nations of Westerners were earlier known by the interchangeable names of Sythian - Gothic - Saxon.)

Media access is the pay electronic preachers get to conceal this. They never mention it. Un-cooperative preachers remain in ecclesiastical backwaters where TV cameras and well-filled offering plates never go.

Bible readers know that the Word was given to Israel ONLY, and The Word was God. This says that only Israel has the God of the Bible. Today, "Judeo-Christian" electronic preachers boldly tell "Christian-Saxon-men" that ¹ "Judeo-Christian", a name unknown before 1920, is used to describe those who maintain that the Jewish god and the Christian God are the same God.

"Christian-Saxon-men" are NOT Israel, but that the network owners who are NOT "Christian- Saxon-men" ARE Israel.

Thus, they give strangers, who do not bear the three proofs of Israel, "Christian-Saxon-men", a false baptism.² They are now proclaimed to be Israel and as such can claim the Word, the God of Israel. Since the scriptures say that Word was shown only to Israel, this means that true Israel (Christian- Saxon-man) now have no god. Lying electronic preachers say their god, the God of Israel, belongs to someone else. If this is true - their "god is dead."

"God Is Dead" - Results

Teaching that God is Dead has far-reaching results. (1) True believers drop away from those who teach such heresies. They have no desire to study Bible scriptures now said to belong to strangers or to follow a stranger's god. (2) With no Word, statutes and judgments to guide them into paths of righteousness, the new Judeo-Christianity religion becomes a cesspool which is endlessly and enthusiastically exposed by the strangers' media. (3) Lawlessness descends like a blanket upon the nation as the people without direction run wild.

At the meeting of hundreds of Christian Covenanters³ in Spokane and with hundreds more in Colorado, I asked the following questions: How many have belonged to churches in the past? Almost all raised their hands. How many have belonged to two churches? 90% raised their hands. How many have belonged to 3 churches? 80% raised their hands. How many to 4 churches? 40-45% raised their hands. How many don't attend any church outside of their homes today? The same 40%-45% raised their hands.

2 "The ... Gentiles shall ye take ... purifying them with an unlawful purification (baptism)." Testament of Levi 4:17

3 A Covenanter of the 1500s reformation was one who covenanted with God and with his brothers to obey the Word, and none other.

This was an eye opener. These hundreds upon hundreds, accompanied by wives and children, had sacrificed to travel from Alaska and from Florida, from California and from Maine. They had spent hundreds and thousands of dollars to come and sit under the preaching of dedicated ministers from sunup to sundown for an entire week. It was just like the old camp meetings of the 1820s - 1840s after the king's preachers had departed, except today's Christians come farther and probably sacrificed more.

These people had gone to several churches and were thoroughly disillusioned. All were humble Bible students. They listened for long periods, and when they spoke, their faces changed with the certainty of the rightness of their words. Their words were the pertinent scripture. The speakers audience respectfully listened in silence.

Certain Judeo-Christian preachers, un-zippered by grace, and just emerging from or again re-entering the cesspool of their scripture-cursed beliefs, would have felt most uncomfortable in this gathering, having the correctness of their ever-changing beliefs examined through the "filter" of the Word. Having given away their god to another, Judeo-Christian preachers seldom talk about the Word, statutes, and judgments. They are reluctant to stand and have the light of the Word reveal their shortcomings.

My Daughter's Story

My red headed daughter is 21. She attended a Bible study group in the town where she lives and was asked to give her testimony. She did. Afterwards, the group asked this young girl questions for over an hour. The questions that seemed important to the group seemed simple enough to the average Bible student and she answered them with scriptures she had been taught around the supper table at home.

"Love" was the buzz-word that group used to excuse everything. My daughter limited the "love" excuse by defining Love for them - the first time it had ever been done: "If you love me obey my commandments." That was new and shocking. They had never heard that before. "What commandments?" She named them - the 10. One listener stood and declared that this was the first time she had ever heard this. She had been "saved" (agreed to obey God) a few months before and thought that all she had to do was buy a new dress and go to church on Sunday. Object lesson, regardless of age - one quoting the Word "speaks as one having authority." Second - there are lots of people who are struggling to learn and have no one to teach them.

Answering The Question With The Word

Over the years people have sent me questions. I enclosed 30 of these questions in a "hand-out" folder, a copy which is enclosed with this newsletter. I find it useful. If someone is upset over one of the 30 subjects commented upon, I give him the folder with the suggestion to look at what the Law has to say about the thing that is causing his upset.

If his thing is gun control - I tell him to read #11 - "God requires gun ownership," and then walk away. He will read #11 - and go on to read the rest.

On my trip to the west coast last month I talked to a girl at an airport rent-a-car desk. She was upset over violent crime. I told her to read #23; "Murderers merit capital punishment." When I boarded the plane 20 minutes later she was still reading. The man I sat beside on the plane was concerned about taxes. I handed him a pamphlet and told him to read #27, "Taxes are forbidden." When I got off the plane he was still reading.

The Word has power to it. Once someone reads it it is seared into their consciousness. That is why the media seldom dares to print or quote the Word. It damns them, while converting the reader.

The enclosed pamphlet is not sugar coated, nor is it a silver bullet to cure all the nation's ills. But, it does provide some of the *Word*⁴ to help those who have been given nothing to steer them through the reefs of life. The authority of the Word is the thing and the only thing that will do that. Feel free to copy the pamphlet on your own if you think that it will work for you.

It is my belief that last year - 1990 - was the high watermark of liberalism. The Word is now flooding back into the country and great changes will soon result.

From now on it is what "God says" that will be the thing people consider important.

DATING

Dating is a touchy subject. It is the first step into the world of sex. Sex makes babies, causes disease, can cause murder, 4 "His name is called the word of God." Re 19:13. "I will send my word and save thee and thy seed." I Adam & Eve 12:6.

is the basis of happy marriages, causes abortions, and even starts wars. Dating is important.

All men, from 13 to 85, are acutely conscious of the presence of a female. If they are not - they aren't normal. Feigned disinterest wins approval. It is good manners - but disinterest is still feigned. Normal men are NOT at all disinterested - they are VERY interested in females.

Men are perpetually "in season". God made them that way. In a lawful society this "interest" is strictly regulated by custom and LAW.

The female learns about this interest early. She finds it exciting. It makes her feel important - the center of attention. She discovers this heightened male interest while not sharing this interest herself, at least, not to the degree of the male. Females judge this male interest by their own "lack of interest", and figure that it is something they can handle.

While the male is perpetually in season the female comes into season far less frequently. It may be as infrequent as once a year. Sometimes, even longer than that. However, once a female does come into season - she is in season. That's when nature tends to take over.

If parents allow their thirteen year old daughter to date a thirteen year old boy steady - she WILL come into season sooner or later. Then, there are two adolescents "in season", together, unsupervised. To expect mother nature not to take its course is to talk like a fool. It would be far better to allow your 13 year old daughter to date a 23 year old man who has a job and a means to care for a thirteen year old bride. That is certainly something a 13 year old boy can't do, doesn't want to do, and can't really be expected to do.

To allow your thirteen, fifteen, seventeen, or eighteen year old daughter to go steady is to ask for a son-in-law, a pregnancy, wanted or unwanted, or an abortion. If what you want is a 13 year old son-in-law, or a daughter who has just aborted your grandchild, or if want an illegitimate baby, you are going about it the right way. That's the way to do it. It's a sure-fire can't miss condition.

Most young boys know they can't provide. Ruled by nature they may violate a virgin and then break off the affair to avoid complications. If it's your daughter, she may then feel that the only reason that men want to date her is for sex. That knowledge is trouble. If your daughter has learned to use sex to manipulate boys - you've got the makings of a whore on your hands.

Our grandfathers knew that mother nature is served first. Anti- men icebergs don't become mothers. Propagation of the species comes before anything else. That's why yesterday it was always "group parties", "group outings", always chaperons were present - active, watchful, careful chaperons. - non of them "good guys" or "good sports."

Tell your sons and daughters the facts of life. Most don't know. Tell them in plain English that men are always in season and women come into season. It's nature's way. Tell them that when boys and girls are together when both are in season that it is like playing with matches and gasoline. Tell them that you trust them but that you trust mother nature more.

Tell them plainly, lay it on the line. Spell it out. They'll understand. They've got to! Today's system isn't working. The only difference between us and everyone else - is the requirement of the Word. We are different for a reason. Let's obey God and enforce the difference.

LOST - "INVENTIONS FROM GOD"

While reading either Jasher, Enoch, Adam & Eve, or Josephus, I ran across the scripture that says that inventions are gifts from God. I didn't note it and now can't find it.

If a student should run across the scripture please note the reference and let me know. I need it. Thanks.

flooded positions of authority with strangers to undermine the Word and bring about God's certain curse. Rudolph was given a simple traffic speeding ticket. His probable reaction to being judged by a stranger was known. Rudolf protested, and the De Klerk- installed alien legal system outlawed Rudolf. Clever! Alien- enforced Christian law subverted to trap and neutralize Christians.

Rudolf is an important man. He is the one who has established "commandos" (S. Africa's "neighborhood watch") throughout White S. Africa. It is these neighborhood watch militias that time after time defeated the armies of the British Empire during the Boer War. The obedience of the S. African White man to the Christian law requiring gun ownership¹² is still obeyed, and may be the last survival card the Whites have. That, and the shadowy Boers firing from the cloud over hanging the laager at Blood River (See VC, p. 295).

Chapter 205

BLACK REPUBLICS

"Black Republics!" This is a term coming into usage among certain law enforcement officers living in widely separated parts of the country. It means - Black nationalism in operation in American cities. I learned this term from police officers attending meetings this past summer.

Many American cities have Black mayors, Black city councils, Black judges, and Black police. These Blacks tend to run affairs in their jurisdictions as they see fit. They build vast housing complexes at taxpayers' expense, run up astronomical municipal debts, and hire Black municipal workers almost exclusively to man their domain. Whites who live there accept the increasing tax load, lack of police protection, and the indignity of being pushed around, or they leave. Increasingly they leave. Detroit is now 74% Black. Other cities are also rapidly becoming Black.

Often, if a White resident or visitor runs afoul an ordinance of these cities, he may find that he will be jerked around unmercifully while offenses of Blacks are often overlooked. This is especially true when an altercation between a Black and a White occurs such as at the scene of a car accident or a robbery, and the officer who arrives on the scene is Black.

In certain areas, outright confiscation of White property is taking place - although it is not called that. A Capetown, Michigan newspaper reports that in Detroit, between July 28 and August 17 - just 21 days, 205 cars were stolen at gunpoint. At gunpoint! A September 27th report says that 20 cars were taken over one weekend.

A gunman selects the car he wants and walks up to the driver stopped at a stoplight, puts his pistol against his head and orders him out. If he doesn't - he's shot. The gunman then gets in and drives away. It's that simple. Arrests are few.

"Officials say they are doing all they can ... Detroit police acknowledge that they have a dangerous trend in the city; several people have been shot and one killed during the robberies. At least one woman has been raped."

One story goes like this: "Kermit Haynes confessed that he pulled the trigger in the first degree murder of Benjamin Gravel ... Haynes, who was 16 at the time, and five others blocked a street with a tree trunk and ordered Mr. Gravel out of his car. Haynes shot him dead ... Chief Judge Dalton Roberson (Black) had the option of sentencing Kermit Haynes as an adult, which would have sent him away for life, or as a juvenile. He opted for the latter, giving Haynes probation until he is 21 ... psychologist's evaluation ...

showed him with ‘borderline psychotic features and a ‘capacity for vicious delinquent behavior.’”

One can only guess at the sentence such a court would have given a White committing the same acts.

More serious is the epidemic of robberies of White-owned gun stores presently taking place across the country. The Virginia- Maryland area alone has had 44 recent incidents, incidents that have put hundreds of the latest model weapons in the hands of Blacks and have left White dead and wounded store owners in their wake. Recovery of these stolen weapons is almost nonexistent, and what few are recovered are found in areas such as Atlanta and DC which have draconian gun laws that are strictly enforced against Whites.

Past Black Republics

Haiti was ruled by Whites from France and was wealthy. The Blacks were agitated by the French revolutionary establishment and rose up and killed all the Whites on the island. Their property was confiscated and all debts were repudiated. To this day, visiting Whites take their lives in their hands when they venture off beaten paths. Business ventures organized by Whites are few. The ones that have been tried seldom get off the ground because Haiti’s rulers constantly change the rules of business. No one needs this when business risks are naturally high.

The South

The South was turned over to Blacks to rule after the War Between The States. They provided city councils, judges, congressmen, policemen - they were the South’s rulers. Carpetbaggers sent by the NY bankers were supposed to control their activities and keep them working in the service of the bankers. With occupation soldiers standing by to keep the Whites docile, the Blacks had a field day; confiscatory taxes, arbitrary arrests, beatings, rape, and murder; this was the rule of the day.¹

In time the Blacks realized they actually had absolute power in their hands. There was nothing the native Whites could do. President Grant's soldiers held them in subservience and Grant couldn't withdraw his troops without risking losing the Southern Black Republican support that kept his party in office. Counting on Grant's support - the Blacks kicked out the White carpetbaggers whom they had elected governors and senators and replaced them with their own elected Blacks. Then they began to single-mindedly start the process of forcing ALL Whites out of the South in order to turn it into another Black republic like Haiti.²

Then, the Blacks talked loudly about confiscating all White-owned property - including the newly acquired multi-million acre tracts belonging to the NY banker land companies - companies that the carpetbaggers had been sent down to supervise. This was "off-limits" and caused a banker-Black reaction.

The bankers, to keep their billion dollar bag of Southern plantation property that they had hoped to sell to immigrants from Europe at tremendous mark-ups, were forced to dump

1 The full story is told in Vigilantes Of Christendom, P.O. Box 997, Lynchburg, Virginia 24505, $18/copy, .

2 The term "Black republic" is a play on words. Haiti has never been a republic. It has only been called one.

the Blacks, switch sides, and support the Southern Whites, to try to end Black rule.

European African Colonies

In Africa after WWII, one European possession after another was turned over to Black rule. With few exceptions, individual White settlers who remained have been confiscated and forced to leave. One by one small White-owned businesses found it impossible to operate under business rules that change with the arrival of each new ruler. Most of these Black nations now have laws prohibiting Whites from owning land or voting. The only "outsider" interests remaining are those of the giant international cartels that can bring in foreign armies to protect them. This last is the only non-Black control that exists over Black nations and their rulers. It's very real to the Blacks.

Central African cities that once were bustling business centers under European rule now stand largely deserted. The phones work sporadically. Electricity is occasionally produced and most hospitals are forced to use old-fashioned lanterns. Elevators in buildings don't work so no one lives on the top floors. There is no work and no food so most of the inhabitants have wandered back to the bush to gather nuts and fruit to eat.

Rhodesia, one of the latest to be turned over to Black rule at the insistence of the US and British establishment, is following the same road. The Whites who held off the armed onslaught of the entire world for years, accepted Black rule with American and British guarantees of protection and fair dealing. They have been unmercifully abused and now their "guaranteed" representation in the "Rhodesian-Zimbabwe" government is soon to be terminated. The Black government is talking about confiscating and dividing up the remaining White farms - farms cleared from the bush by the farmers' white forbears.

Probable Future Of America's Black Republics

America's Black-ruled cities may be expected to follow in their steps.

America's cities must be viewed as already lost, never to be reclaimed any more than the African cities have been reclaimed. Right now there are extensive areas in America's Black cities into which Whites dare not venture. Fire trucks may not safely answer emergency calls in these areas. Firemen are shot as they try to extinguish blazes. Life-saving crews are beaten as they try to remove Black victims from car wrecks. The police must enter these enclaves in force.

Richmond's Monument Avenue with its statues of Lee, Jackson, Davis, Stuart, and Maury may soon receive additional statues of Black civil rights activists ("Black nationalists"). Ultimately, one may expect the graves of President Jefferson Davis, Jeb Stuart, and the 20,000 Confederate dead who rest there in Hollywood Cemetery will be bulldozed.

These areas of America, for all practical purposes, are becoming foreign nations. They exist under the usual African system of loose administration by local satraps who rule as they like and who brook no outside interference.

Business Flight

The cancer-like³ spread of "Black Republics" in America is resulting in "business-flight." High taxes, constantly changing business rules, and lack of police protection cause this. Businesses move for safety reasons, or to follow fleeing consumers to safer regions. They must to survive. As they move, the tax-base of the cities drops and their ability to finance the increasing and already heavy debt, especially municipal bonds, becomes questionable. The unspeakable word - "default" - is again heard. The economic base of America is being de-stabilized.

Possible Future Results

DEBT: the tax-free municipal bonds of the nation's cities will come under pressure to default as cities' tax-base declines and expenses increase. This will cause distress among those holding municipal obligations.

ALLIANCES: As Black nationalism again demands autonomy from ALL others - Zionist and Oriental economic powers may find their economic interests at risk, even their very lives, as the Benson Heights clash between Zionists and Black nationalists illustrates. If so, new alliances may be in the works to ensure physical and economic protection.

MEDIA: The Media, owned and controlled by these groups, may soon present an olive branch and acknowledge that "White" might not be "all bad" after all, and that Blacks may have taken things a bit too far. The establishment ordered their media to switch sides in 1873 - why not again? The problem is the same. If so, there may be a trend to law and order.³

DEPRESSION: Under the depression scenario, continuing poor economic conditions may force Blacks in Western cities to scatter into the countryside to eat as they are now doing in Africa. If conditions come to this it will occur under White policed conditions, or it will be done under conditions of open guerrilla warfare tolerated by the establishment - armed forays. The imagination is sufficient to envision this.

3 There is such a thing as matters having progressed too far. This may be one of them.

Conclusion

One must not be surprised at the most extreme political changes that may emerge in the days ahead - changes even on the order of what is going on in the Soviet Union. Uncomfortable as it seems, we must remember - things cannot continue as they are presently, not if we are to survive as a nation under a Christian God.

BLACK NEWSPAPER ATTACKS HOSKINS

The Piedmont Area Journal, a Black publication edited by Charles Mangum, a local Black civil rights activist, ran an article on July 31, 1991, accusing me of speaking to a Klan rally in North Carolina.

The article shot the works. My name was plastered in the title, "Hoskins At Klan Rally", a picture of a flaming cross, and my home address where I might be reached by interested parties. Following is a letter I wrote in answer.

"Dear Sir: On July 31, 1991, your newspaper alleged that I was a speaker at a Carolina Klan Rally. This is not true. Your information source was not correct.

"There was a Populist Party meeting at Reidsville. Col. James Gritz of Arizona was the only other speaker at that meeting known to me besides the Area Chairman of the Populist Party. I am often asked to speak to political, religious, educational, and civic organizations because of my background in economics. Col. James Gritz, the Populist Party candidate, is a former Green Beret, and is America's most decorated hero of the Vietnam War.

"At the Reidsville meeting a few attendees wore KKK t-shirts. Their presence impelled me to devote my entire talk AGAINST the KKK, as the enclosed transcript - reprinted in my own August newsletter Hoskins Report #203, written immediately after the event, will show.

"You are to be commended on your careful watch on radical groups, but, rest assured, I would no more willingly appear at a rally of the KKK than I would at a rally of the NAACP or the Communist Party. I consider them all to be the poison ivy on the backside of America.

"The fact of life is this: Relatively big-time operators like the President of Panama - Noriega, and the party of President of Iraq, were both on the payroll of the U.S. government. If these big-time operators were on the government payroll, then, it may be possible that the leadership of most two-bit left and right wing groups in America are also government fronts; fronts used to drum up support for any policy the government wishes to ram down America's collective throat. History may show that the blacks haven't had a real leader, one not hand-picked by outsiders, since Marcus Garvey, and the whites a leader since Andy Jackson. That's a long time.

"Incidentally, when Martin Luther King died, the government sealed his records for 100 years. Why? Perhaps you don't think that those who run the government might try to manipulate blacks just as they do whites? Thank you for getting this matter straight. Sincerely, Richard Kelly Hoskins - Editor, Hoskins Report"

ED: This is how the establishment works their schemes. The "right-wing" KKK sends a few of its members to a Populist Party rally in NC (the act) and the event is twisted and reported as a KKK rally in a "left-wing" black media organ in Virginia (the reaction). Under pressure of the reaction restrictive laws could be passed. One might suspect that this sort of thing could have been planned in advance. I've known Mangum for 30 years. He doesn't like whites.

NOTE: Word has just been received that the Black newspaper printed my letter and a copy of my N.C. talk printed in the Hoskins Report #203. It was accompanied with the editorial comment that they really didn't know what I was getting at.

UNCLE TOM: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Why is Jerry Falwell and the rest of the electronic ministers called 'White Uncle Toms'?" N.H. - Ohio

ED: The media is Zionist controlled. To gain access to their media the electronic ministers must hat in hand endorse the Zionist's god - that is, proclaim that the Zionists are Israel. Since the Scripture says that the Word was given to Israel only (Ps 147:19-20), and since the scriptures also say that the Word is God (John 1:1), this means that only the Zionists have God. The White Uncle Toms have even invented a new religion to accommodate this belief - Judeo/Christianity. Traditional Christians vehemently deny this. They say that only Christians have the "three proofs of Israel," - God's name - Num 6:27, Isaac's name - Romans 9:7, and adamic descent.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: Two FBI agents visited me. I was told that I was a target of the grand jury in N.D. investigating the attempted bombing of a federal judge. They also said that someone was talking (I wish I had one month off my 20-year sentence for every time I've heard that). I was offered a deal similar to Gary Yarborough's. I was told that I would be given a sentence reduction and a letter recommending parole to the parole board if I agreed to cooperate with the prosecutor. After telling them that I knew nothing and that I wouldn't cooperate they left, telling me that I would hear from them again.

"On July 17 I was placed in solitary confinement, where I remain at this writing. I have been told that I am about to be transferred again, which in my case is punishment. My family including two small children live less than 40 miles from here and I have been trying to get here for over 4 years. I guess its fair to say that I heard from the two agents again." Sincerely, Robert Jackson #09855- 064.⁴

INVENTIONS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Your reference of 'inventions from God' may be Prov 8:10-12:

'Receive my instruction ... For wisdom is better than rubies ... I wisdom dwell with prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions.' Prov 8:12."

F.J. - Alabama

4 Robert Jackson was acquitted in the charge of shooting homosexuals in NC, but is serving 20 years for transporting a firearm over state lines, an offense for which others receive probation.

PRIESTS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: If the priesthood was limited to the offspring of Aaron, how can one today, who cannot prove his lineage, be a priest descended from Phineas?" C. L. - Oklahoma

ED: Common sense. My wife and I are distant cousins sharing the same common grandfather just 9 generations ago. Every Christian-Saxon- Man is kin in this same way to every other Christian-Saxon-Man and to our savior Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is our blood kinsman. We are blood kinsmen to Him and to each other. The descendants of Aaron by this late date, must include in the same manner every single man, woman, and child of our nation. This is what "race" is all about.

DEAD SEA SCROLLS: Over the protests of Amir Drori, director of Israel's Antiquities Authority, a research library in California is making the microfilm the 800 Dead Sea scrolls available to scholars. This effectively breaks the monopoly, held for four decades, by a small number of researchers. (From the Lynchburg News, September 23, 1991.

ED: The initial discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls in 1948 was a tremendously important event. These writings are said to cover not only the period from the Israelites return from Babylonian captivity to the time of Jesus, but also more ancient books. Scholars have long wondered what St. Jerome removed or added to the ancient scriptures when he was commissioned by the pope to bring the various manuscripts into agreement. Perhaps we shall soon find out.

ANIMAL PROTECTION: "Live aborted babies are now being used to develop serum for immunization purposes, according to a story reported recently in the 'Cleveland Plain Dealer', Ohio, USA.

A doctor in Michigan says the aborted fetuses are injected with virus and kept alive for several hours until its body is filled with disease. The fetus is then killed and the blood used for vaccine.

Doctors say the process "is an alternative to ... senseless slaying of animals from which vaccines were previously made." (from the S. African Observer

SACRILEGE: Salman Rushdie said in London that he was "extremely distressed" at the slaying of the Japanese translator of his novel "The Satanic Verses." EXCUSE: On a recent speaking tour a minister explained to the writer the reason for not visiting a prisoner accused of a serious offense. The minister "didn't want to get involved. ... They would have my name and I would have been followed. ... After the third request the prisoner became abusive and threatened me and I'm not going to visit someone who threatens me."

Poor excuses. ALWAYS visit prisoners if you can - regardless of the charge. Don't wait to be asked. A prisoner in the Lynchburg jail had been there for three months. I dropped by to see him on the spur of the moment. I was his first visitor in all that time. Among all his friends in town I was the only one who had visited him, and I wasn't his friend. I didn't like him or the things he did, and told him so. It turned out he had been falsely accused and was being held on a charge for which a jury found him innocent. He had made his allowed phone call and his lawyer wasn't in. He was frantic. I was the one who contacted his lawyer for him. I was the one who brought paper, pencil, and stamps for him to write letters. Little things, but all important to a prisoner. Visit those in prison if you possibly can. Don't assume someone else is doing it. Chances are they aren't. To be deprived of one's freedom is absolutely devastating, which is why the Bible requires restitution or death - not prison.

DISCRIMINATION: "Two White police officers have filed lawsuits challenging ... the promotion of a Black woman officer to corporal. ... U.N. DECLARATION ON RACIAL DISCRIMINATION

The U.S. Constitution states that both the Constitution of the United States AND international treaties shall be the law of the land.

The U.S. Government ratified the U.N. charter giving both the UN charter and UN proclamations the power of international treaties - and thus of law.

The UN proclamation on race published by the U.N. Office of Public Information, OPI151-63-27884, in January 1964, outlines what the UN requires of its members. YOU judge whether the Constitution or the UN charter is being presently enforced, and what may be next on the agenda.

Text

"Considering that ... all human beings are ... entitled to all the rights ... without distinction ... as to race, colour or national origin.

NOTE: Different peoples are entitled to THEIR own rights - not the rights of others. This text could cause violations of basic Christian teachings.

Considering that ... all are equal before the law ...

NOTE: As a Christian concept for Christians - this statement is true. Non-Christians do not mean it for themselves. They make no attempt to enforce equality within their own groups - or promote equality of others with their own.

Considering ... the U.N. has condemned ... segregation and discrimination ...

Considering that any doctrine of racial differentiation ... is scientifically false, morally condemnable, socially unjust and dangerous, and that there is no justification for racial discrimination either in theory or in practice.

NOTE: Even a child can observe racial difference. Overwhelming evidence has resulted from scientific experiments that have already taken place. Modern science condemns integration. Discord, disaster, and chaos result in a society that integrates.

Taking into account the other resolutions ... of discrimination.

Taking into account ... discrimination based on race ... continues to give cause for serious concern.

Alarmed by the manifestations of racial discrimination ... in the form of ... separation ... as well as by ... dissemination of doctrines of racial superiority ...

Convinced that ... policies based on the prejudice of ... racial hatred ... jeopardizes ... international peace and security.

NOTE: Knowledge of Christian Law jeopardizes the peace and security of law breakers.

Convinced ... that racial discrimination harms ... those who practice it.

Convinced further that the building of a world society free from ... racial segregation ... is one of the fundamental objectives of the U.N..

NOTE: Every religion in the world, except Christianity, promotes and prospers by integration and proselyting other races.

1. Solemnly affirms ... speedily eliminating racial discrimination throughout the world ...

Article 9

1. All propaganda and organizations ... promoting racial discrimination ... shall be severely condemned. ¹⁰

7 "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." Deut 23:2 (Margin note by the reformers in Geneva Bible 1599). "This was to cause them to live chastely, that their posterity might not be rejected."

8 "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zîwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15. "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them.. Jer 30:21. "Thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee." Deut 15:4

9 This could be the compelling reason for "Black studies", "Politically Correct" studies. "Read this law before all Israel ... men and women, and children and thy stranger (Heb: gêr - visiting racial kinsman) ... that they may ... do all the words of this law." Deut 31:11-12

10 Many believe that this article is the reason for the censorship present now in Canada, Britain, Sweden, France, and Germany. Now, law suits and harassment of Christians and Christian groups is taking place all over the West.

SOVIET INTENTIONS

The Communists killed millions in the Soviet Union. They murdered the entire upper and middle classes of the nation - millions! Every family in the USSR has a martyred member.

A free Russia should be eager to bring to trial the thousands of murderers who are responsible and available. When SONNTAG MURDER: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: We are the French nationalist movement Travail Patrie (MTP).

"Your Hoskins Report #205 reported the murder of Rainer Sonntag in Dresden, Germany.¹⁶ Rainer Sonntag was killed because of the "ethical crusade" he started against sex-business, prostitution, pornographic press, and sex shops which have poured into E. Germany from W. Germany since the re-unification.

"In W. Germany, this activity is largely in Israeli hands. They cater to the large contingents of U.S. troops stationed there. Sonntag was called a "neo-Nazi" to detract from the reason he was killed.

"He was among 60 young nationalists who were going to attack a brothel. Rainer Sonntag was murdered by a bullet in the head May 31st, just before midnight. The suspected murderers were well-known pimps who were arrested in Thailand in mid-June. Their extradition was delayed because of the explosive tension caused by the Sonntag murder. Two days after Sonntag's funeral, the brothel which belonged to the suspected murderers was completely destroyed.

"Fighting against the chaos, Rainer Sonntag died a hero."

FRANCE BETRAYED "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I am a White French Algerian colonial refugee living in France. My people colonized vacant N. Africa land, planted orchards, and made the land bloom. DeGaulle gave our land to the Arabs. This land, neglected by the Arabs, is again returning to the desert.

"After reading your VC I understand why. DeGaulle was like your J. Lindsay Almond of Virginia, a Smith of Rhodesia, a deKlerk of S. Africa, a Reagan or Bush of America.

Eisenhower, an American Lt. Col. with no combat experience, was appointed by your Roosevelt over 40 senior officers to command the Allied forces in Europe. In turn he chose and gave recognition to DeGaulle. This American recognition made DeGaulle France's leader. In return, DeGaulle gave away French Indo-China and North Africa. He did what he was chosen to do. Eisenhower was chosen to give away E. Europe to the Soviets, which is why he stopped the American armies. The Establishment chooses obedient servants.

Strangers have flooded into France. The enemy, once in Algeria and Indo-China, now occupies the streets of Paris. There are more moslem births in France than French-Christian births. Traitors have cast down our defenses. France, the home of the Crusaders, has been invaded and occupied by its foes." A. Y. - France

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: The Scottish Regiments of the British army touring the U.S. no longer include the Black Watch. Why?" D. McD. - N. Carolina

ED: The Black Watch was originally recruited from Scots loyal to the English government ("German George" married to a Scot) who opposed Bonnie Prince Charlie. The regiment was used to oppress other Scots who wished to secede. Today's Scots are nationalistic, and refuse to serve in that regiment. It is now recruited in England and is manned almost entirely by Englishmen. I was told that the last time they were in Virginia the hotel where the Black Watch and Seaforths were staying was forced to call the police on several occasions to break up fighting between the two regiments. They fought in the restaurant, hotel corridors, and stairwells, on the streets and before and after public appearances. The Queen is even said to have issued a personal appeal for harmony. Evidently it wasn't enough. Frankly, can you imagine a fiery-eyed Scottish mother wanting her son to serve in the Black Watch?

CORAL RIDGE MINISTRIES: "Dear Dick: "I wrote Dr. Kennedy's Coral Ridge Ministries and questioned the fact that the Black nominee to the supreme court is married to a White woman. Here is the answer I received. (ED: The Editor inserted the footnotes.)

'Dear J. C.: "Thank you for your interest and support of Dr. Kennedy and Coral Ridge Ministries. ...

'Regardless of the color of the person's skin, they have been made in the image of God and belong to the human race (Genesis 1:25-28).¹⁷ People of different skin color are permitted to marry without committing any sin.¹⁸ However, it is important that they both have faith in Christ,¹⁹ since it is a sin for a believer and an unbeliever to marry.²⁰

"Realistically, such couple needs to consider the sinful prejudice in society against marriage between people of different skin colors. They need to make certain that they are willing ... to face such irrational and abominable hatred by prejudiced individuals."²¹

"We ask you to remember us in your prayers as we proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ through television and 17 MAN: Heb: Adam - "to show blood(in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red(ruddy). Strong's Concordance. "God said let us make man in our image. God created man in his own image." Gen 1:26-27. Not everyone was made in God's image - only MAN was made in God's image.

18 This is correct as long as the skin colors referred to are shades of man's "blush red" color. Otherwise; "Woe to them that call evil good, and good evil." Isaiah 5:20

19 Faith in God requires love. "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15. The commandments to obey in this case are the ones forbidding interracial marriage.

20 The devil is a believer. It is not all right for a believing woman to marry the believing devil. One must not marry outside God's Law.

21 The "bigot", those who live "by-God", or "by God's commands", will heed the following: "Thou shalt not take a wife ... of the Canaanites ... but thou shalt go ... to my kindred, and take a wife." Gen 24:3,4. "Neither shalt thou make marriages with them: thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son." Deu 7:3. "If ye do in any wise go back and cleave unto the remnant of these nations, even these that remain among you, and shall make marriages with them, and go in unto them and they unto you: know for a certainty ... that they shall be snares and traps unto you, and scourges in your sides and thorns in your eyes, until ye perish off from this good land which the Lord your God has given you." Joshua 23:12-13. "They have dealt treacherously against the Lord: for they have begotten strange (2114 zûwr - racial alien) children." Hosea 5:7. "Now it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed (mongrel) multitude." Neh 13:3. "And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all strangers." Neh 9:2. "So shall we be separated, I and all of Thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Ex 33:16. "I am the Lord your God, which have separated you from other people." Lev 20:24. "Therefore let us make a covenant (an agreement) with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them." Ezra 10:3. "Drive them out before thee. ... They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:28,33

radio. Sincerely, Rev. Ian S. McSevney, assistant to Dr. Kennedy."

ED: To be fair, if an electronic ministry came out against racial intermarriage, how long do you think they would stay on prime time? Of course, if the reason their media masters allow them prime time is to dispense this nonsense, they run the risk of God's curse: "Woe to them ... that justify the wicked for reward." Isiah 5:22-23

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: What is Voodoo?" M. C. - S. Carolina

ED: The Encyclopedia Britannica, 14th Ed., Vol 23, Voodoo, p254 states: "The name given to certain magical practices, superstitions, and secret rites prevalent among the negroes of the W. Indies, notably in the republic of Haiti ... obscene rites involving the use of human blood, preferably that of a white child, were considered features of this religion."

In the past my family has had painful and expensive dealings with practitioners of Voodoo. I would advise approaching practitioners with utmost care. Law officers who value their lives: do not enter a room recently vacated by a priest without wearing a gas mask. It may be a question of life and death. Do not treat Voodoo practices casually. Stay away, or view them from a safe(?) distance. Blacks are very susceptible, and I believe that any Black, educated or ignorant, can be made to do the will of a Voodoo priest. Either that or forfeit his life.

GOD IS DEAD: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: "The Word is God. Cults which claim to be Christian who also say that the Law is done away, are really saying that the Word is done away and that God is dead." A. H. - Canada

BRITISH-ISRAEL: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Where did the story that the Jews are Israel come from?" J. G. - England

ED: It was the story used by Jews to gain entry into Britain. It is important in that, if true, it invalidates scripture. To Westerners, Jews were simply Christ-killers. They were filtered out of Christendom by certain scriptures (John 8:44-47), and their being mixed-breeds also filtered them out (Deut 23:2). Jesus' condemnation banned them (Jno 13:31-35?) and other scriptures forbade them to live among Christians (Ex 23:28). Oliver Cromwell sold them entry into Britain to practice usury (Ezek 18:13) in exchange for needed loans. Manassah ben Israel used the flawed theological argument that Britain contained only 10 tribes of Israel (All 12 tribes were already represented in Britain and the West). He said the Jews were the missing 2 tribes. His argument went on to say that if the missing two tribes of the Jews entered Britain, the 12 tribes would then be re-united and Christ would come. This false argument of ben Israel supposes that the Word, ie. Christ the Word was absent in Britain at that time.²² The merchants of London wouldn't swallow this theological monstrosity and protested. Cromwell pretended to heed their vehement protests, but instead, quietly let them enter Britain anyway since he needed the money.

The Christians of Britain who bought the "ben Israel story" are called British-Israel to this day. They continue to receive favorable press and support by Jewish interests and also continue to be roundly chastised by Bible students grounded in the scriptures.

BANKS & BANKRUPTCIES: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: See if I've got this straight; a bank lends money to a company - the company uses the money for business expenses. Or, the bank refuses to lend money to the same company - it can't pay its bills and goes bankrupt. The bank then lends money to one of its stockholders or front- buyers to purchase the bankrupt company for almost nothing. Whether or not the company is making money or not making money makes no difference. ALL money must be borrowed into existence from banks and this gives them the power of life or death by lending or not lending as they choose. Right?

ED: Yep!

THROWING PEARLS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The Laws, statutes and judgments were not given to any but Israel. The Scripture teaches further that we are not to "throw pearls before swine" lest they turn and rend us. Does this mean that we are not to give our inventions to strangers?" A. G. - Alabama

ED: Not having been given the Law and not being restrained by the Law - strangers do as they will. Western inventions in their hands are used at a whim. They may even be used to destroy the inventors. The airplane, battleship, and machine gun were given to strangers by Lawless Westerners and are now used to kill Westerners. Western miracle drugs cause strangers to unrestrainedly overpopulate their lands which forces them to starve or migrate to Western lands to survive, which causes us to dwindle in numbers.

Irresponsible use of God's gifts to his people is with reason condemned by the Law. In time, violators will be brought to justice.

UNFILTERED

RED HERRING - SEXUAL HARASSMENT: The non-issue of sexual harassment was raised by the media to detract from the real issues of "strangers ruling" and "racial-inter-marriage". The media gave these issues the appearance of acceptability by not mentioning them.

SOUTH AFRICA

WHITE HOPE: "In the Services there is a hard core of resistance to Black rule: the modern equivalents of the 'bitter-enders' of the Boer era. They love their country, they are proud of their race. They are hard men. They will prove a tough nut to crack. In them lies the hope Yet they are legally and politically powerless ... Yet ... history repeats ... the hour produces the man. It produced both Napoleon and Hitler ... Perhaps in some barrack-room young Corporal van der Merve is sitting on his bed, polishing his brasses, and thinking... If he is not, then the White South African is truly finished." Covenant Message, Vol 56, #5.

SELDOM TOLD TALES

COLDSTREAM GUARDS & QUEENS OWN HIGHLANDERS: At the performances of their bands in Huntington, W. Va., Norfolk, VA, and Durham, NC - they played "Dixie". The crowd rose to their feet and cheered the banned symbol of their fight against oppression. Beneath the surface the oppressed still remember that there was a Camelot. They will rise to cheer the ancient symbol of resistance to tyranny

- and the establishment fears it.

DR. BOB JONES SEZ: A letter from Dr. Bob Jones III, president of Bob Jones University, dated Aug 28, 1987, to Mr. Rich Blackstock in Independence, Missouri, contained the following:

"From 1971 until 1983 Bob Jones University was in controversy with the IRS over its tax- exempt status. The Issue culminated in a 1983 ruling against the university by the U.S. Supreme Court declaring that since we held views that were contrary to prevailing 'federal public policy', we would forfeit our exemption. That was their punishment to us for being unwilling to let the state dictate our religious beliefs. The issue was a 1st Amendment freedom of religion issue; and when we lost, all churches and religious institutions lost.

"The court ruled in our case that tax exemption was a subsidy and that religious organizations had to yield their religious beliefs in favor of 'overriding government interests.'" Voice Of The Underground Church, 4828 S. Peoria Ave., 202- F, Tulsa, OK 74105.

ED: This is why churches have stopped teaching the Word, statutes, and judgments. Since the "In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God", the churches that don't teach (worship) the Word that is God don't worship God. The Supreme Court has taken away their god, replaced Him with tax exempt 30 pieces of silver for their compliance, and they are now social-service, tax-free baal institutions with no god, no reason for existence, and justly deserve the scorn of Christendom's Saxon Men. There is no sin in America that upsets

America's government-supervised churches enough to cause them to risk losing their tax-exemption. For them it is - "live and let live." You've come a long way - baby!

LYNCHBURG'S NEWSPAPER ATTACKS HOSKINS

Richard Kelly Hoskins, author of two best sellers, has published a new book Vigilantes Of Christendom, the story of the Phineas priesthood.

Both book and author have come under fire from the N.Y. Times, Nashville Herald, Lynchburg News, Charlottesville Daily Progress, and other newspapers across America.

What is this "super secret" Phineas priesthood that law-breakers fear, the priesthood that Dick Hoskins has written a history about? Who are its members? Why is America's media so anxious to attack the book and its leading character - Phineas?

What is so important about this Phineas priesthood that newspapers level lengthy front page attacks against both book and author and then not only refuse to print the author's letter responding to their unfounded criticism, but print his address in the article so that those taking exception to his writings will have no trouble locating either him or members of his family. This is playing hardball and the threat is clear. QUIET about God's Phineas priesthood - or some dark night something just might happen.

Then too, what about the freedom of speech and religion that America's left wing media claims for itself? Why don't they extend it to their victims? Their excuse is that Hoskins' answering letter exceeded 300 words. This is a weak excuse. Almost every week the paper classifies "letters" from readers as "columns", letters that are often many times longer than 300 words, and prints them. Perhaps, the real reason is that allowing one to defend himself is reserved for those the newspaper considers "politically correct", or for the rich and famous.

There are only two ways you can find out why the newspapers are trying to drop a paper curtain over Vigilantes, a book that has reached best seller proportions without a single review by an establishment newspaper. You can believe their quotes from people who have axes to hone, their distortions and fantasies - or get a copy of the book and judge for yourself.¹

One Lynchburg reader says: "Next to the Bible it is the best book I have ever read." Another says: "Thank God that some one has the courage to say what must be said in this day and age. No wonder newspapers are trying to suppress your book." I have a stack of letters almost a foot high - all saying the same.

Order your copy now and find out what the newspapers are afraid to tell you. Find out what the paper curtain of the News, the N.Y. Times, and the rest are trying to conceal - and why! Today's media thrive on dissent, violence, and misrepresentations. It is a world they have helped create. They don't like it, but like it or not, America has once again begun to take tentative steps toward law and order. That's what the book is about.

The Censored Hoskins Answer to "The News"

The letter that Dick Hoskins wrote to the News in defense of his books and himself - the letter which the The News returned to him stating that they would not publish, follows:

Dear Sir: I would like to comment on certain items in a story you ran on the Phineas priesthood, Byron de la Beckwith (accused of assassinating Medgar Evers), and myself, in a front page article In the News and Daily Advance on November 1, 1991.

Today, lawlessness rules the land. Traditionally, when the law won't protect the people - the people will protect themselves against their oppressors. To justify their actions they call on their ancient religious teachings. The Arabs call on the Koran, the Jews call on the Talmud, and Christians call on the Bible.

The Christian Bible says that God created the Phineas priesthood to enforce obedience to the Law, and the Law is the pillow on which Christendom rests (Numbers 25). All Law abiding Christian men are members of the Phineas priesthood. The scriptures hold him up as the example to follow. St. Phineas is the patron saint of law enforcement. He is a Christian spiritual concept. Other faiths hold that their kings are responsible to enforce their laws. Christian scriptures hold that every Christian man is a king, he may be great or small - but he is still a king, and therefore responsible to help the downtrodden, relieve the oppressed, and protect the defenseless.

I wrote a history on the renaissance of law enforcement called VIGILANTES OF CHRISTENDOM, The Story Of The Phineas Priesthood, Virginia Publishing Company, PO Box 997, Lynchburg, Virginia 24505, $18/copy.

The Start Of A Media Hype

An AP story, datelined Jackson, Mississippi, May 24th, and printed in the Knoxville Journal, states that Delmar Dennis, the FBI informer who is scheduled to testify against Byron de la Beckwith (now up for his 3rd trial for the 30-year- old killing of Medgar Evers of the NAACP), states that he WILL NOT testify. He gave as his reason that a super-secret terrorist organization called the Phineas priesthood is after him.

Three weeks later, on June 15, after the news had gone around the world that Dennis had been scared from testifying against Beckwith, the Knoxville Journal reversed itself and said that Dennis had just been kidding. The article reports: "Dennis said he cannot legally refuse to testify, and knew that when he wrote the letter." Of course, this is after his book was ready for sale. Evidently, the AP missed this.

On the same page in the next column to this announcement is another report that says, "Dennis went back to Mississippi Friday, not to go to court, but to sell a book."

The AP picked up Dennis' first announcement and ignored the second. Based on all this activity by Dennis, Richard Kelly Hoskins, described in the article as a "white supremacist", the author of the history of the Phineas priesthood, VIGILANTES OF CHRISTENDOM, came under scrutiny. After all, it is the super- secret-terrorist-organization of Phineas, described in the Hoskins book, that is said to be responsible.

Dennis blasphemes God's institution by calling it a shadowy secret terrorist organization, and saying that it is after him for being a witness. His being a witness is no crime. Thus, God's priesthood being after him would make it unlawful, and God an unjust tyrant.

If in fact Dennis has committed a bona fide crime, he should confess his sin and get right with God. He certainly can't flee where God can't find him, and blasphemy doesn't help.

Dennis coined the blasphemy, the Nashville Herald added their voice, the commonwealth attorney of Hinds County, Mississippi gave it credence by repeating it, the New York Times repeated it again, and the Lynchburg News - once again. A lie repeated five times is still a lie. God's priesthood is not a shadowy terrorist organization. It's in the open where all can see.

The News left the Dennis affair and concentrated on the author. Diligent research on their part uncovered the fact that I wrote OUR NORDIC RACE in 1958 (The name "Our White Race" didn't have the pizzazz). I believe it is the only history of the white race now still left in print. Other races have scores. It has remained in constant demand since it was first written and has been pirated at least 30 times. I have been told that as many as 500,000 or more may have been printed. I don't know. I have been trying to get someone in the media to notice it for years. It only costs $6 from the above address. The News wouldn't begrudge Whites having one little history book - would they? If they would - why?

In spite of what the N.Y. Times says, I'm really not a White supremacist and anti-Black - any more than Mr. Woodrum, who wrote the article, is a Black supremacist and anti- White. Neither am I a racist. I do not believe that any race should rule another. Personally, I prefer my own. Others may prefer their own. I see nothing wrong with preferring one's own. It would be fairer if people were given a choice.

Your article says that I am a "friend and associate" of Mr. Beckwith. I'm sure I met Mr. Beckwith at one of the talks I have given to church groups in Tennessee, North Carolina, or perhaps Georgia. I remember him as a kindly old man who laughed at his longtime persecution by the media. I printed a letter he wrote to my newsletter, in which he commented after reading my book - "Phineas for president," which is another way of approving "law and order" in the office of president. I think that was a very proper feeling. Incidentally, I have also met the Queen of England and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., if you think it matters.

As you say, I write the HOSKINS REPORT newsletter - $24/12mos. In May, I copied a news item from THE NEW AMERICAN magazine, Apr. 9, p29, which stated, "Another potential witness who was not called in the original trial (of Beckwith) is Delmar Dennis ... Dennis said in a book, published 16 years ago, that Beckwith told him he had shot Evers. ... Dennis was a Baptist minister."

I added the editorial comment: "Sixteen years after Beckwith's first trial they brush off the tired old statements by another preacher-informer for a last ditch THIRD trial. The talk should be about double jeopardy! Or better - about informers. Is it true that almost every FBI informer is an informer to keep from prison himself? Are informers' crimes reviewed by juries? If not - they certainly should be." I thought those were good questions. I still think so. The use of captive informers by government agencies to produce evidence to convict hapless people has played havoc with American justice. These are the comments you say Dennis perceives as criticism. I'm sorry he feels that way.

Your article says that the "sources" the media contacted to learn about this new organization, the Phineas priesthood, are puzzled since no one has ever heard of it. This is what one might expect when you remove Bible study from the classroom.

It appears that the aspiring assistant district attorney of Hinds County, Mississippi, eager to justify his politically inspired persecution of Beckwith, accepted Dennis' blasphemous statements like a drowning man clutches a straw, and repeated them. This shows the depth of his education and spiritual development. He's now reportedly diligently looking for a "Phineas priest". All true God-fearing men are members of the Phineas priesthood, but they are not members of the priesthood that the assistant district attorney is imagining in the dark shadows of his mind. Perhaps some kindly person will take pity and talk to him.

Your article quotes a Mr. Halpern as saying that, "It's conceivable that someone could act on the suggestions in Hoskins' book." Yes, it is conceivable that someone might act on one of the Biblical quotes in my book. Not likely in certain circles, but conceivable. But, if that person acts on a Biblical command in an unlawful manner - the law abiding men of Christendom appointed by God to enforce his laws will be on him like ducks on a June bug. Count on it!

Your article of November 1 called my writings extremist. I am not an extremist. Quoting Biblical scripture is not extreme. I quote scripture in all my writings. For Christians, telling the truth and dealing fairly is the Way - and to them the Way is the natural way.

Thank you for quoting someone who said that he doesn't think that I am dangerous. I don't think you are dangerous either. Neither do I belong to any extremist organization. Not the Nazi party, ACLU, NAACP, Communist Party, KKK, ADL, Democratic Party, Republican Party, right wing, or left wing organization. I belong to a Christian service organization that distributes Bibles, a nature preservation organization, a couple of genealogical organizations, and teach two Sunday schools. I have made a point to distance myself from all organizations that might be considered controversial to prevent being mentioned in a derogatory manner in the newspapers. Now I find that one only has to write an unpopular book they wish to censor.

I have met as many extremists as you have. As a writer and historian I have interviewed many of them. I have spoken on the same platform with scientists, blacks, healers, Jews, communists, Catholics, right wingers, and goodness knows who else. But, hey - this is America! Remember?

You say that I doubt that 6 million died in the HOLOCAUST - as if an honest doubt were a crime. An Israeli historian doubts. He recently stated in the Jerusalem Post that only 3.2 million Jews died in WW II from all causes. The old Aushwitz camp markers claiming almost 4 million deaths have been replaced with ones claiming a fraction of the earlier figure, and Poland claims that most of them were Polish. The Soviets have recently released the Auschwitz death certificates captured from the Germans - 75,000 of them - that's all. A leading British historian says that he believes the whole story is nothing but wartime propaganda that has not died. Which answer is the truth? Which is permissible? No deaths at all? 75,000? 3.2 million? 6 million? or what? Would it make your paper feel better and make me "politically correct" if I said I believed it was really 6 million? Why can't I believe another figure if I feel the first one is in error? The Lynchburg News seems to have many answers - tell me what I should believe so that I too may become wise.

Yes, you are correct again. In 1985 I wrote WAR CYCLES / PEACE CYCLES. $10/copy. It too can be gotten from the above address if people really want to see what I actually said. It is the economic history I learned while working on Wall Street, a story vastly different from the one told by the media. In it I predicted the Mideast War which has just been fought, the present anti-South Africa crusade (launched for economic reasons), the four-year-economic cycle, the massive bank failures now taking place, the 50-year cycle, the coming collapse of the municipal bond market, the next commodity collapse, and the next bull market in stocks. Over 20,000 copies are in print and it is still selling well. And, almost every comment in it about Jews is from Jewish sources. Could you write a history of finance and not mention Jews?

Your front page headlines label me as extremist, yet you quote as a source for your information the Anti-Defamation League, Klanwatch, and the Center for Democratic Renewal." These are some of the most extremist groups in the entire country. Radicals go to radicals to get radical opinions - conservatives go to conservatives to get conservative opinions. The FBI ran an exhaustive investigation on me and cleared me for top secret while I was in the service. I've been investigated and cleared - has Mr. Woodrum? - have you?

In the meantime - God is blasphemed, Mr. Dennis sells his books, the assistant district attorney of Hinds County gathers votes, I'm labeled a white supremacist, the media gets grist for its mill, and Mr. de la Beckwith languishes in jail, and Beckwith is deserving of better treatment. At least, he is deserving of a speedy trial - and waiting 20 years to get it is certainly pushing it. In fact - it's disgraceful. Sincerely, Richard Kelly Hoskins

Editor's Note: I think that if you plan on getting any of my books you had better go ahead and do it. Remember - it is the day of The New World Order - and that kind of order is fully capable of censoring both books and the authors that wrote them.

INTERVIEWS: "Dear Dick: What do you advise when a newspaper reporter wants to interview you?" R. C. - Lynchburg

ED: The job of the establishment press is to suppress dissent. It is everyone's potential enemy. Beware. Their smiles and pleasantries are fly-paper. Don't be fooled - they are hired mercenaries paid to do a hatchet-job. If they don't do it well they will be fired and replaced by another who will. Give written answers if at all possible, and keep a copy. Keep a tape recorder handy. In my 63 years I have seldom met an establishment reporter whom I would consider honest and straight (except for the reporters on the old Lynchburg News and the old Richmond News Leader). The new owners of the papers demand things that twist reporters into what they are - and what they are isn't pretty. Bank robbers and pimps appear to have a more honest occupation. Pity them, one day they will have to face their maker and they won't be able to lie, twist, and distort their way out of that interview.

7000 BANK FAILURES: "Dick: Didn't you say in War Cycles / Peace Cycles that the present 14,000 banks would merge and bankrupt down to 7,000? L.M. - D.C.

ED: Yes. Since then they are already down to 11,000 on their way to 7,000.

DAVID DUKE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What do you think of David Duke?" - H. H. - California

ED: What I am about to say is important.

The only way an aspiring white politician can secure media coverage today is to promise the minorities access to his women.

David Duke on the Donnahue Show said that he would not like it if his daughter married someone of another race, but he would still accept her if she did.

The scriptures teach:

"If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien), she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing (The Word). But if the priests' daughter ("Ye are a ... a royal priesthood." 1 Pet. 2:9) be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her fathers' house ... she shall eat of her fathers' meat; but there shall no stranger (Heb: zûwr) eat thereof." Lev 22:10- 13.

Duke, a self-proclaimed "born-again-Christian", took the media's litmus test on racial intermarriage and passed. He passed the media test and failed God's. "By their acts ye shall know them." Now he gets media coverage and the resulting underdog sympathy vote.

The chapter "Plot To Destroy Israel" in Vigilantes relates the identical story occurring in another time. Refresh your memory by reading the story from the scriptures - or the condensed version in Vigilantes, p. 27.

Remember, Duke was a KKK man. I have warned you about the KKK. I spent the summer speaking against it. I regard both the KKK and the Nazi party as federally controlled fly-paper organizations designed to trap the unsuspecting. Active membership may equal to a prison term. The suppressed truth is that the Federal government ran the KKK in the South after the War Between The States, from 1869 until the late 1870s, which is why Southern intellectuals flee these type of organizations. In the 1920s the re-born KKK became acceptable only because it was strictly a political organization. It was then destroyed by the media when radical agents provocateur infiltrated and committed atrocities in their name. The present KKK is a 1869 type in my opinion. It's all in Vigilantes.

JUDGE NOT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: 'Judge not that ye be not judged.' Doesn't that have a deeper meaning?" A.Z. - Florida

ED: WE judge not - God's Law judges. We suffer injuries and slights to ourselves, for which God holds us accountable if allowed to be committed against His Law.

BY WAY OF DECEPTION: "Dear Dick; Don't you believe that the book By Way of Deception is part of "the deception?" J. J. - Georgia

ED: One must consider the facts. A disgruntled Mosaad agent writes a book. We are told the Israeli government tried to block sales. Widespread publicity resulted. The book is banned at first in U.S. by Jewish distributors. Then, released by the same Jewish distributors in a new popular paperback at a low $5.95 and sold in supermarkets to reach the masses. The public, reading the book, learns that Jewish neighborhoods world wide are tightly organized and armed to the teeth. Is this true? People could quickly become frightened into becoming anti-Jewish. The Zionists would then prosper by the resulting Jewish immigration to the Israeli nation. This could be the answer. The Zionists use and abuse the Jews disgracefully, and the Jews are stupid to permit it.

THE SOUTH WAS WRONG: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Just finished Vigilantes of Christendom. I finally read a Southern view of the War Between The states. If the South was in the right - why didn't God let them win?" S. R. - Minnesota

ED: "To whom much is given, much is expected." The South knew right but tolerated evil. While not practicing usury as others did - she tolerated it in others. She abandoned the African Colonization Plan when confronted with radical abolition (see Vigilantes). She tolerated 1000 acre plantations (land monopoly). She tolerated strangers in her government. There was ingrown evil in the South and little was being done to correct it. The same applies to South Africa and Germany. It required fire to burn it out. We obey God totally or we don't. God says he will punish us fearfully for violating his Law. Examine the blackened ruin of these lands, and ponder. He will bring the sword, flame, and famine again and again and the bodies will be stacked high. He promised and it will happen. The choice? - repent or suffer and suffer. Count on it.

LIVING IN NY: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: You just don't know what its like being forced to live here. I drive a hack. A car full of quarreling blacks drove up beside me. Two black women were fighting in the back seat. One grabbed at the other, she shrieked like she was being killed, and her attacker threw something in my open window in my lap. It was her eye."
